ROW OVER HAUGEN BILL

President, Conservatives and East Oppose Relief
Bill

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright, 1926, by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington—The Democrats have at last reached out for an issue. It is the agricultural relief program of the insurgent Republicans and will clearly appeal for the rural vote where the Democrats have never been particularly strong.The party conferences of an informal character in the cloakroom have all developed the trend toward agriculture as the main problem that has to be solved by the federal government. President Coolidge and Secretary Jardine have taken their stand on the side of government assistance without regulation or subsidy. The insurgent Republicans aided by the Democrats are rallying around the Haugen bill with the prospect that it may get through the house by a close vote.The members of congress from city districts and from the east generally probably will cast their lot with President Coolidge and oppose the bill.
Some eastern Democrats will do likewise. But the members of congress from the west and south without regard to party will line up generally for the Haugen bill.

ROW OVER HAUGEN BILL

All this means a real fight in the senate. Some of the conservative Democrats will be as vigorous in their opposition to the Haugen bill as their Republican conservative brethren.
This is because they do not like to see the government enter the realm of price-fixing or subsidy for industry.
They will have to run the gauntlet of argument from insurgent Republicans and low tariff Democrats who will insist that the protective tariff itself is in the nature of a subsidy and that the principles of the Haugen bill are simply analogous to the tariff itself.
On top of this in the leadership of such Republicans as former Governor Lowden of Illinois, who feel that a measure like the Haugen bill is economically sound and good Republican doctrine.The battle will come in the senate.
The conservatives have enough votes if the measure were up for passage today to defeat it. But a different situation may confront the senate after political lines have been drawn. The party strategy of putting the bill up to Mr. Coolidge to veto may win out in which case it is almost certain that not enough votes can be marshalled to pass it over a presidential veto whereupon the case will be carried to the country for argument. The administration is determined that it will fight back by pushing the Tincher bill through congress but this may not come through. The Haugen bill is now a bit of way and is pushed by a combination of western Republicans and Democrats.DENIES GIVING FALSE CITIZENSHIP PAPERSMilwaukee—(AP)—John C. Hood of Racine, former clerk of the circuit court of Racine-co pleaded not guilty Tuesday to an indictment charging fraudulent issuance of a naturalization certificate on April 1, 1924.
The certificate, according to the indictment was issued to Alfred Principal, after citizenship had been denied him.
Hood's trial was set for May 20 and his bail fixed at $500. Three Milwaukee saloon keepers were also arrested late in the day and released on bail after pleading not guilty to indictments charging violation of the prohibition amendment.
Additional arrests are expected

WIN ST. PAUL OFFICESt. Paul, Minn.—(AP)—Labor endorsed candidates captured four of the major offices in Tuesday's election. The mayoralty, however, was won by Lawrence C. Hodgson, commissioner of finance, who defeated the Rev. Howard Y. Williams, pastor of the People's church who was backed by labor. Mr. Hodgson, a former mayor had a majority of about 6,000 votes. Only 55,000 out of 164,000 registered voters cast ballots.

federal court here Wednesday to a charge of robbing the Prairie du Chien, Wis., postoffice and was sentenced to serve 10 years in Leavenworth penitentiary.
Mason was arraigned immediately after he was indicted by a federal grand jury for alleged robbery of the Prairie du Chien postoffice on last Sept. 12 and New Lisbon, postoffice on August 31. He pleaded not guilty to the indictment charging the new Lisbon robbery. He will be taken to Leavenworth Thursday.
Sentence was imposed by Judge C.
Z. Laise.Robert Henderson, another alleged postoffice robber, also was indicted by the grand jury. He is charged with participation in daring robbery of the Superior postoffice several months ago. His arraignment was scheduled for Wednesday afternoon.SET JUDGE ENGLISH'S city boards and commissions will hold their third annual get-together meeting and dinner at Appleton Vocational school next Saturday evening. Dinner will be served at 6 o'clock by girls of the domestic science department and an informal program will follow.

Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of Lawrence college, is to be one of the speakers.
While there will be no formal chairman, C. D. Thompson, alderman from the Second ward and member of the vocational school board, probably will be in charge.
The evening will be devoted to informal discussions of city affairs and to getting city officials acquainted with each other.HIGHWAY BOARD DECIDES ISSUESWon't Change Location of State Trunk Road No.
26Madison—(AP)—A petition of the Rock-co board of supervisors asking for a change in the location of state trunk highway No. 26 south of Milton was denied by the state highway commission at its meeting here Tuesday.
The commission voted to go on record as considering itself under obligation to construct a gap in highway 15 north of Green Bay in Brown-co as-soon as the conditions require it and advisable finances justify the expenditure. It also stated that later it would be willing to fill the gap on No. 57 in Brown-co from Askeaton, south.
Twenty nine thousand dollars was voted out of the old federal aid fund to complete the construction of state trunk highway No. 73 in Columbia-co.
and $3,000 was allotted out of the same fund to fill a 1,400 foot gap in highway 55 in Washington-co. The latter is the only gap in the concrete

WET, DRY LAW
THIS SESSIONNeither Side Expects Their Measures Carried Out
This YearWashington, D. C.—(AP)—With a record of three weeks of prohibition hearings behind it, a senate judiciary sub-committee set out Wednesday to formulate recommendations as to the fate of 16 wet and dry bills.Measures ranging from modification of the eighteenth amendment to a referendum on the Volstead act had precedence but with the committee composed of four dry and one wet the anti-prohibitionists had no doubt as to the fate of their bills. Besides these measures, the committee had before it more than half a dozen administration bills designed to strengthen the Volstead act and to broaden the powers of the prohibition forces in preventing smuggling both across the international borders and from the sea.
While the prohibitionists favor
these measures on the whole they enertain little hope of seeing any of them translated into law at this session.

WETS OPPOSE DRY ACTS

Nearly all of them carry provisions which the wets regard as an invasion of rights guaranteed under the constitution and they are prepared to wage long warfare against them.
Senator Reed, Democrat Missouri,
the only wet of the subcommittee, who furnished most of the fire works at the public hearings is prepared to make a fight for some of the wets proposing modification of the Volstead act and national referendum on that law. Losing there, he will carry on his fight against the administration bills and particularly against the proposal to give the prohibition forces the right to search dwellings where there is a suspicion that liquor is being distributed for commercial purposes.Publication of correspondence between the American and British governments, meanwhile, has disclosed that the conference which is to take place in London shortly to consider plans for tightening the bars against smuggling of liquor into the United States is a British rather than an American idea.LEGION HONORS
CAPTAIN ROGERS

Commander, Addresses
Oney Johnston PostH. L. "Pep" Plummer of Cadot, state commander of the American Legion, was the principal speaker at the banquet and meeting of Oney
Johnston post, American Legion, held Tuesday evening at Conway hotel to honor Capt. Fred B. Rogers, originator and director of the legion saxophone band. Capt. Rogers will leave the city in June. Other speakers were L. Hugo Keller, past state commander, Capt. Rogers, and Harold S. Spurr.
The banquet at 6:30 was attended by 29 legionnaires. The regular meeting at 8 o'clock at Elk hall was attended by 125. Beside Captain Rogers, Commander Plummer and Edward P. Mumm, director of the 120th Field Artillery band, were guests of honor. The legion saxophone band, playing under Captain Rogers' direction for perhaps the last time, was widely applauded at the regular meeting. Two students of Lawrence college completed the program with a boxing exhibition.
Past Commander Keller, representing the local legion, gave the farewell address for Captain Rogers and presented him with a beautiful fountain pen and pencil set from the post. In response, Captain Rogers launched a plea to continue its program of service and asked that it continue to support the saxophone band as it had in the past. He declared that their now exists a better understanding between the national guard organizations and civilian reserve units due to contact brought about by the National Defense act.
The need of civilian cooperation with the National Defense act now in force was emphasized by Commander Plummer in a short talk. Mr.

WARD REVISION AGAIN BEFORE CITY COUNCIL

Aldermen May Ask New Committee to Study Problem

An effort to revise the proposal for creating more wards in Appleton probably will be made at the meeting of the common council Wednesday night. It was learned in the city hall Wednesday. There is some question whether the committee appointed by the previous administration to consider the ward problem still is functioning. It is understood that a new committee will be appointed to study the matter.

There is little indication of enthusiasm for creating new wards but several of the aldermen apparently feel that eventually it will be necessary to redivide the city and this time as good as any other. The difficulty presented by the school district boundaries will be eliminated on July 1 when the union school plan becomes effective.

Aldermen who have given thought to the matter do not look with favor on the proposal to merely divide the present wards into two wards where one now exists. They fear division of this kind will result in irregular shaped wards and they propose that an entirely new districting system be adopted.

The principal reason advanced for creating more wards is to give the city larger representation on the county board. The city is entitled to one supervisor for each ward and it is believed that Appleton should have more than the six supervisors now representing it.

COMMITTEE READY TO REPORT ON GARBAGE

Definite recommendations for garbage disposal will be submitted to the common council Wednesday night by the council garbage committee. It was indicated Wednesday morning by Pliny Earle, second ward alderman, chairman of the committee. Mr. Earle said his committee would recommend immediate start on the proposal. The plan will not be divulged, however, until the council meets.

Garbage disposal systems in Madison, Racine, West Allis and Green Bay were studied by the committee while it was preparing its recommendations.

WANT RETAILERS HERE TO OBJECT TO BILL

Appleton Chamber of Commerce and a number of retail establishments Wednesday received telegraphic pleas from the National Retail Dry Goods association warning protests against the Vestal bill which would regulate the use of designs by retailers. A hearing on the bill is to be held in Washington Friday morning and retailers are urged to wire protests to their congressmen or to the committee which has the bill under consideration. The telegrams state that if the bill is adopted it will be practically impossible for retailers to do business for they constantly will be infringing on merchandise designs.

BUILDING PERMITS

A building permit authorizing construction of an office building warehouse and lumber shed at 129 N. State-st for the Pountain Lumber Co. The present building on the property are to be dismantled and a new structure is to be erected.

Other permits were issued Wednesday by Walter Zechschner, building inspector, to:

O. A. Kasten, 1205 N. Union-st remodel basement.
Renn Retail, 559 N. State-st remodel.
Otto Reetz, 812 N. Clark-st residence.
Braton Glass, 216 W. Packard-st basement.

Permits issued Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday authorized construction aggregating $12,700 according to estimates filed with the inspector.

WISCONSIN WEATHER
Fair tonight, probably becoming unsettled Thursday or Thursday night, warmer in east and north portions to night, and in east portion Thursday.

WEATHER CONDITIONS
An extensive high pressure area with fair weather covers the eastern portion of the country this morning. Rain has fallen over the upper Lake region during the past 24 hours. Extensive low pressure over the plains states and northwest, with considerable cloudiness and with rains over the Rocky Mountain region. High temperatures are recorded from the northern plains with fair weather and are advancing eastward. Mild temperatures may be expected in this section tonight and Thursday with the weather becoming unsettled again by Thursday as the "low" drifts eastward.

ONE OF THE BEST MEDICINES FOR SICKNESS—THE NURSE

BY CYNTHIA GREY

The Nurse
Her smiles make sick men well again.
It's a hard-hearted Hannah indeed, who begrudges her man a smile at his pretty hospital nurse.

For when he begins to flirt—he's getting well. And her twinkling eyes, and provocative laugh buck him up.
Who wouldn't be sick—when getting well is so pleasant?
And Nurse knows it. Oh, yes, she knows it.

Bucking up patients is part of her job. When Mr. Man turns the corner, and it's time for him to "sit up and take notice"—just watch Nurse! She'll make him snap out of it!
All honors to her, say I. May her skirts be short and crisp, her wavy hair ever shorter and crispier. And her cap! May it never run out of starch!
All honor to her roguish smiles, and elusive finger-tips.
All honor! She makes men well again.

Moose O'er Radio Program for First Time Tuesday Night

A home talent radio program was broadcast Tuesday evening from station WIEM a portable station located in Moose hall. The program was opened Tuesday with talks by Mayor Albert C. Rule and Elmer Jennings, president of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce. Several piano selections were played by Mrs. Earl Fourness. Songs were sung by Mrs. W. H. Dean and whistling selections were given by George Lausman.

On Wednesday evening songs will be sung by Mrs. W. H. Dean accompanied by Miss Berdie Farrell and by H. K. Derue of Kaukauna. Paul V. Carr, Jr. accompanied by Miss Helen Louise Wolfenbach of Kaukauna. William Steinert will play several selections on the mouth organ and John Newcomb and John Marshall will stage an old time fiddlers feature. Three high school boys, William Montgomery, Lawrence Zimmerman and Wilmer Grimmer will present saxophone and piano selections. At 11 o'clock a special singing and dialogue feature called "The Old Buggy Ride" will be given.

DANCE BREAKS UP AS MUSICIAN IS TAKEN ILL

The oft heard statement, "he broke up the party," became a serious reality Sunday evening at a dance at the Valley Queen pavilion at Twelve Corners, when Hi Colewell, leader of an orchestra playing there, was stricken with pneumonia poisoning in the midst of a foot-stirring dance selection. The leader dropped to the platform and it was several minutes before the dance could be resumed and then most of the crowd had lost its "pep."

Mr. Colewell was rushed to a physician and he was recovering nicely Tuesday. His wife also was stricken by the poisoning. It is believed that the poisoning was caused by the couple eating the contents of a can of salmon a few hours before the dance.

PAYS $100 FINE FOR BEING NOISY

Oshkosh Court Inflicts Severe Penalty on Dance Hall Disturber

A fine of $100 and costs was assessed in municipal court in Oshkosh Monday against a man who gave his name as Kenneth Booth, Appleton, for creating a disturbance at Cincarella ballroom. Booth was arrested by Walter Plummer, Winnebago-co motorcycle officer, dance supervisor at the hall, when he attempted to fight. Booth was warned by the court that if he was arrested at the ballroom again he would be fined $500 and sent to jail.

Booth, it is alleged, remonstrated with Plummer when the latter put another disturber out of the hall and Plummer immediately ordered Booth to leave. Booth objected and Plummer pushed him out of the building and put handcuffs on him. Booth, it is alleged, wanted to fight so Plummer took off the handcuffs and accompanied him to jail.

SCHOOL PROGRAM ADVANCED 1 DAY

Woodlawn School Will Conduct Milk Week Meeting Thursday Night

Woodlawn school, town of Grand Chute, will have its Milk Week program Thursday evening, May 6, instead of Friday evening, when most Outagamie-co rural schools will do honor to the Wisconsin dairy cow. The parent-teachers meeting of the school will be held at the same time, but the general public is invited. James Wood of Peots-Wood & Co., is to be the speaker. The company will furnish cheese free, and milk and ice cream will be provided by the committee in charge.

The Seymour public schools also will have its Milk Week program Thursday evening, as the school prom is scheduled for Friday evening. "The Milk Fairies," a play, will be presented as part of the high school program. Practically all other schools, however, will have their programs on Friday evening, according to A. G. Mealing, county superintendent of schools.

About 70 talks on the value of milk were given Monday and Tuesday in rural schools by Mrs. Nellie Kedzie Jones, Miss Gladys Stillman, Miss Gladys Meloche, and Miss Edna Huffman, all of the home economics department of the University of Wisconsin, College of Agriculture.

Twenty-seven hundred rural school pupils, it is estimated, heard these 20-minute talks. Experiments conducted in the feeding of puppies at the university, in which the value of milk was clearly proved, were explained to the pupils. Milk posters drawn by pupils are on display in all schools.

All four speakers gave talks in the parochial and public schools of Appleton on Wednesday. On Thursday they will continue their visits to rural schools throughout the county, while on Friday all Kaukauna schools will be visited by Miss Stillman, and the other three speakers will appear at the schools in Kimberly and in Buchanan and Vandenberg townships.

Movie houses of Appleton are presenting short films which demonstrate the value of milk with their regular programs during the week.

FORMER APPLETON BOY LEADS MADISON SENIORS

Kenneth Kull, son of George Kull, formerly city editor of The Appleton Post, has been selected to be salutatorian of the graduating class of Madison Central high school at commencement next June, it was learned here. Mr. Kull ranked highest among the 92 boys in the class.

The young man probably will enter Dartmouth college next year.

MISS KERN IS WELL RECEIVED AT HER RECITAL

A finely developed finger dexterity combined with a poetical and musical mind and an ability to bring out the finer tones all aided in the beauty of the program presented before an enthusiastic audience by Miss Katherine Kern, pianist, a student of Gladys Ives Brainard, who appeared in post-graduate recital Tuesday evening at Peabody hall.

Perhaps the most pleasing group of the program was the five French sections including "Reflets dans l'eau" by Debussy, "Arabesque No. 2" by Debussy and "La fille aux cheveux de luit" by Debussy, "L'Alouette" by Gluck-Blakewell and "Etude en forme de valse" by Saint-Saens. Miss Kern played the Liszt concerto very well and was ably supported by Gertrude Boyce at the second piano.

Her Chopin group was done with much musical understanding and the "Sicilienne" from the Chausson concerto for solo, violin and piano with string quartette accompaniment was an excellent ensemble. Those who assisted the assembly were Wenzel Albrecht, violin; Roberta Lanouette, first violin; Clarence Phillips, second violin; Cyrus Daniel, viola and Joseph Zickler, cello.

PAPERMAKER OFFICIALS VISIT OFFICERS HERE

Officers of paper makers and pulp workers unions in Appleton are to confer Wednesday with officers of the international Brotherhood of Pulpworkers and E. J. Barry, second vice president of the International Brotherhood of Pulp Workers. The men are visiting the paper and pulp manufacturing centers of the country to confer with labor leaders regarding labor conditions. They will visit Wisconsin Rapids, Marinette, Stevens Point and other paper mill centers of the state.

Henry Peterson and Fred Wilkes of Fond du Lac spent Wednesday at the home of relatives in Appleton.

COUNCIL OF GIRL WORKERS MEETS

Representatives from Majority of Valley Cities Attend Session

Representatives from Appleton, Green Bay, Neenah, Menasha and Oshkosh attended the Council of Girl Workers of the Fox River valley Saturday at Appleton Women's club. The subject for discussion was The Cooperation between Community Club and Home, Church and School.

Martha Chandler, recreational director of the women's club, talked on "The Point of View of the Community Club." She pointed out the ways in which such an organization wished to cooperate with others of a community. The discussion on Cooperation between Club and Church was led by Mary B. Stephens, secretary to Dr. H. E. Peabody, pastor of First Congregational church.

Co-operation between Church and Home was discussed by Mrs. Mabel Shannon of this city. Mrs. Henry Owens of Neenah, and Edna Robertson of the Menasha Red Cross, Superintendent B. J. Rohan told of ways in which girls organizations can be of help in city schools and Marian Mac Vean of Washington school presented the subject of Co-operation between Club and School from the teachers standpoint.

A business meeting was held in the evening following the banquet. Helen Babcock and Miss West, both of Neenah, were appointed temporary chairman and secretary-treasurer of the organization until the election of officers at the next meeting in October. The chairman, Lilly Grace Matheson of Neenah, and the secretary-treasurer, Miss Chandler, were unable to continue in office until next fall because of conflicting duties.

APPLETON WILL HONOR MOTHERS SUNDAY, MAY 9

Ceremony and Thought Will Mark Observance of Mother's Day Here

"Mother's Day" next Sunday will be observed in Appleton with more ceremony and thought than ever before. Special services by churches, mothers-daughters banquets and an avalanche of candy and flowers for mothers are included in Appleton's program for the day. Sunday will surely be in truth as well as in proclamation "Mother's Day."

Although formal specification of Mother's Day was but recently made in this country, the custom dates back to eras which preceded Christianity. The pagans worshipped "Itha" Great Mother of the Gods with great festivities and ceremonies. With the coming of Christianity, the festival retained its old forms but became infused with a new spirit instead of honoring "Rhea" the Christians honored Mother church and on this day all faithful visited the church brought gifts for the altar, and were baptized.

Later it became the custom of all apprentice maidens and youths to visit their mother on Mid-Lent Sunday, bearing gifts and trinkets. It is a long step from the quaint observance of those days to the present festival, but the effort now to honor motherhood is perhaps the most sincere of all.

Mother's Day was first observed in the United States by many cities in 1910. In 1913 both houses of Congress commended the observance of the day by all the executive departments and in 1914 Congress authorized the president to designate by annual proclamation the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day and to display the flag on government buildings and private homes. The first national proclamation was made by President Wilson in 1914.

With the passing of time the observance of the day took different forms. Sending flowers to mother came into vogue and is still popular according to Appleton dealers. Still later sending of candy to mother developed to a considerable height and will undoubtedly go still higher this year, according to the early sale of Mother's day boxes which are on the market in many forms and sizes. Then came greeting cards and finally the custom of remembering mother by sending her a telegram.

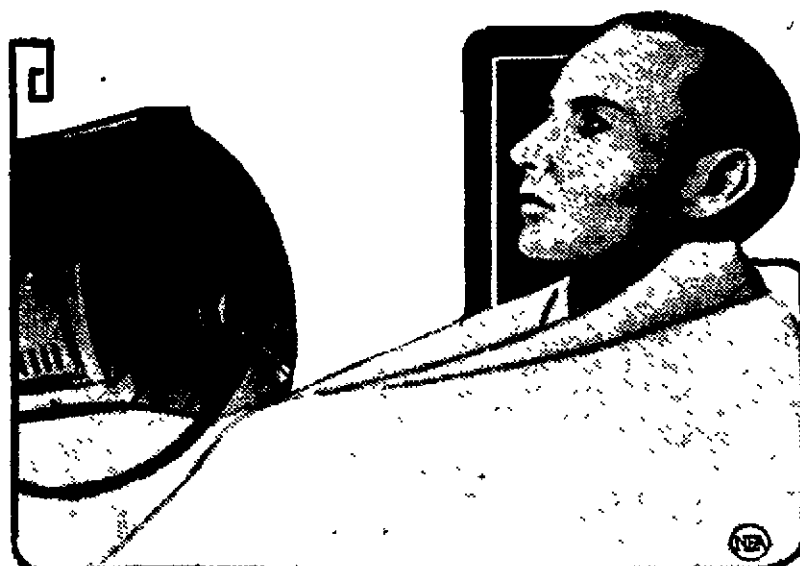

Appleton dealers in flowers, candies and greeting cards for Mother's day except that sales this year will surpass those of any other year since the beginning of the observance of this day.

Two Appleton churches will observe Mother's day by holding Mothers-daughters banquets. Emmanuel Evangelical church will hold a Mothers-daughters banquet at the church Wednesday evening. A special program also is being arranged for this time. First Congregational church will hold a mother-daughter banquet on Friday evening with a special program for the occasion. St. Mary Catholic church will have a special Mother's Day mass at 7:30 Sunday morning and all fathers and children will receive communion at that time in honor of the mothers of the church.

Zion Lutheran church will celebrate Mother's Day by confirming 29 members of the church. According to the Rev. Theo. North pastor of the church this is a fitting ceremony because "It is the mother who places the first little prayer on the child's lips." Last Sunday the members of the confirmation class were examined in the faith and teachings of the church. Special music by the mixed choir also will be a feature of the service. The Zion Lutheran orchestra will accompany all the singing.

Methodist Episcopal church will observe the day with a special morning service. The regular address will be devoted to mothers. The regular 11 o'clock service at the Presbyterian church will be devoted to mothers of the parish.

LINEMEN SAVE FARMER'S LIFE

When Louis F. Radke, 43, was stricken with tubercular peritonitis on his farm near Thiensville, Wis. he refused to go to a hospital. So linemen for the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Co. battled the elements to put up a half-mile extension, so that an ultra-violet ray device could be installed in his home. It is the only treatment that could save his life, doctors say.

Special music at the regular services will be on the Mother's Day program at the First English Lutheran church. A special sermon dedicated to mothers will be the feature at the Mt. Olive Ev. Lutheran church.

St. John's Evangelical church will hold a special evening service and program dedicated to mothers of the church. Songs and music and readings by children of the Sunday school and a special address will be included in the program.

MIDDLE AGE BRINGS NEW INTERESTS

For Women in Good Health

MRS. HARVEY TUCKER
408 WALKER STREET, SHELVILLE, IND.

"Grow old along with me,
The best is yet to be"

With her children grown up, the middle-aged woman finds time to do the things she never had time to do before—read the new books, see the new plays, enjoy her grandchildren, take an active part in church and civic affairs. Far from being pushed aside by the younger set, she finds a full, rich life of her own. That is, if her health is good.

"Thousands of women of middle age, say they owe their vigor and health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Those who have learned through their own experience the merit of this dependable medicine are enthusiastic in recommending it to their friends and neighbors.

"I had been in bad condition for three months. I could not do my work. One day I read what your medicine had done and just had a feeling that it would help me, so I sent and got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had only taken half a bottle when I got up and started to do my work. It gave me an appetite, and helped me wonderfully. I can not praise this medicine highly enough. I surely will advise all women and girls to take it, and they don't have to use rouge to look healthy. My two daughters are taking it now and one is also using the Sanative Wash. I am willing to have you use this testimonial and I will answer letters from women asking about the medicine."—Mrs. HARVEY TUCKER, 408 Walker St., Shelbyville, Indiana.

"I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the little books you gave away and began to take the medicine. After the first few bottles I began to feel better and could eat better and had fewer headaches. I feel like a different person. At anytime that I don't feel good I take the Vegetable Compound again, as I always keep a bottle on hand. You may use this letter for every word is true. I will answer any letters sent to me."—Mrs. JEROME BOLLEMAN, 516 Smith St., West Hoboken, N. J.

OSTEOPATHS ATTEND MEETING AT OSHKOSH

Dr. Eliza M. Culbertson and Dr. Henry T. Johnson will represent Appleton at the twenty-eighth annual meeting of the Wisconsin Osteopathic association at Oshkosh May 5 and 6. Approximately 50 osteopaths from all parts of the state are expected to attend.

L. H. Noordhoff, Oshkosh, president, will preside. Officers will be elected Thursday to succeed Mr. Noordhoff, L. E. Harnad, Madison, vice president, and E. J. Elton, Milwaukee, secretary-treasurer.

Prominent speakers who will address the meeting are Dr. C. J. Gaddis, Los Angeles; Dr. Charles J. Murtart, Philadelphia; Edgar S. Comstock, Chicago; L. H. Leeds, Chicago; and A. D. Becker, Kirksville, Mo.

Dr. A. W. Brockway of Waukesha will preside at the banquet Wednesday evening at Athenian hotel.

NONE HURT AS AUTO AND STREET CAR MEET

A rear wheel was broken and a fender smashed on an automobile on College-ave, near Lawrence chapel, at about 7:15 Tuesday morning in a collision with a street car. The driver was not identified.

The driver had been traveling on the tracks and was unable to turn out for the street car. The rear end of the automobile skidded and was struck by the approaching car.

Masked Players Contest Ends On Wednesday Night

Folks! This is positively the last call. This is the day when all entries must be mailed in for the Appleton Post-Crescent-Elite theater masked players contest, so if yours has not yet reached the Masked Players Contest editor see that it is mailed to him before midnight. Remember there are six attractive cash prizes and there still is opportunity for everybody to win one of them. In another day this golden opportunity will be gone and someone else will have that $50 prize which you might have won.

First prize is $50 and second is $25. The winner of third place will get $10 and those taking fourth, fifth and sixth places will get $5 apiece. Don't forget to send your name and address with the coupons. And by all means send those coupons in Wednesday because Thursday will be too late.

Are you sure—quite sure—you know what Lew Cody looks like in a mask?

Are you quite sure you guessed Lon Chaney right—if you did guess him? Many are puzzling over these questions in their own minds, waiting for the coming of the final film in the great Masked Players Contest—the film in which the players seen on the screen at the Elite theatre in the last two weeks take off their masks and make themselves known.

That's when the best guesses and the best slogans—in other words the best memories and the best imaginations—will win their rewards.

That when you'll know how keen your mind is!

Don't forget—all next week! Watch this paper for the details—and the prizes!

29 SEEK MARRIAGE PERMITS IN APRIL

Twenty-nine applications for marriage licenses were filed at the office of John L. Hantschel, county clerk, during April. This is exactly one less than the number in April, 1925, when 30 applications were filed.

Six applications for licenses were made during March 1926, the same number as in March 1925.

Mr. Hantschel attributes the gain of April over March largely to the end of the Lenten season. The approach of warm weather and the end of high coal bills also have their influence in encouraging young people to get married. Mr. Hantschel thinks. At any rate, the gain is normal.

Country people in many parts of England still believe in witches.

ELIMINATE UNCLEAN MILK

We note that the city has under consideration an ordinance that will prevent the sale of milk in Appleton from other than tubercular free cattle. Appleton has exactly the same interest, relatively, in pure and safe milk as the city of Chicago. Not a drop of milk should be permitted to be sold here that does not come from herds that have been tested and whose freedom from tuberculosis is scientifically established. Tuberculosis is spread from infected cattle to human beings. We have passed the day and age when we can ignore the findings of medical science and expose people needlessly to disease and death.

There are only two things that can stop the rapid and nationwide extension of the movement to bar untested milk from sale. One is the influence of money, and the other is political dishonesty. It is both the right and the duty of a community to protect itself against tubercular infected milk, and in the light of present day knowledge there can be no excuse not to exercise the right. Some cities will move faster than others, depending upon how they are governed, but eventually all will adopt this safeguard. Appleton should be among the first.

GREAT BRITAIN STRIKE

The trend through which Great Britain is going is generally admitted to be the gravest in its history. Prime Minister Baldwin himself says the country is on the verge of civil war. A general strike involving 4,000,000 workers has been called in support of the refusal of the miners to accept reduced wages and longer hours of service. It is a grave calamity, a political as well as an economic crisis.

The trouble had its inception in the grant by the government of a subsidy to the coal industry to permit it to pay satisfactory wages to the mine workers and operate it at a profit. Due to variously ascribed causes the coal industry had reached a point where it was unable to successfully compete with continental coal. Something had to be done to bolster it up and the government chose the course of granting a subsidy. Whether that was a wise step is open to various interpretations. Some contend it was unavoidable, others that it was a political blunder. But the fact remains that the economic life of Great Britain has been at stake during the post-war years and that supreme and extraordinary measures were necessary to meet it. Having adopted this measure the further question arises whether the government was wise to withdraw the subsidy before assurance that the mine owners and their employees would reach an agreement on wages and hours. The opinion in London seems to be that it bungled.

Temporarily at least the mine owners are out of the picture. It is a contest between the government and labor. So far as is consistent with the purposes of the strike, the health and life necessities of the people are to be provided for by the strikers themselves. It is doubtful, however, that this can be done long, for the bitterness of the conflict is likely to lead to uncontrollable acts. The world will view this trouble with keen interest and anxiety. Above all it will not wish to see it terminate in civil warfare. The government has been vested with dictatorial powers. That it will use them drastically if forced to do so there is no doubt. In any event, the outcome will depend on where popular support lies.

whether with the strikers or with the government. The public has received the crisis with accustomed British stolidity. There is, as was to be expected, an entire lack of national hysteria. It is to be hoped that some solution of the deadlock will be found before it degenerates into the application and resistance of force.

It is not easy for Americans to pass upon the merits of industrial conflicts in Great Britain. They present problems altogether different than we have in this country. Sacrifices there must be to preserve the security and life of the nation against the forces which have threatened them as a result of the war. England has been in a desperate way economically every since peace was established. The strike is the culmination of a stupendous industrial difficulty. In the end the government will have to preserve itself and the people will rally to its support, according to all traditions, if it becomes a question of whether the strike is to succeed or orderly government survive. However, it would seem the sympathetic strike called by the trades council is soundly loyal support of the mine workers, who cannot readily be expected to work for a wage on which they assert they cannot live.

ANOTHER CONSPIRACY

This is the hour Chicago is trying to put over the first step in a well organized plan to legalize a permanent raid on Lake Michigan water. It is trying to force through congress in the river and harbor authorization bill an appropriation for the deepening of the canal and Illinois river, ostensibly to connect the Great lakes with the Mississippi river and the Gulf of Mexico. The bill has been drawn in a manner obviously designed to deceive those who are opposing excessive diversion. It innocently states that while the Illinois project is to be authorized, no definite amount of diversion is specified. The engineers' report favoring the project referred pointedly to the superior rights of lake navigation and holds that no diversion should be allowed which would materially reduce lake levels. But what does Chicago care for that? It has repeatedly stated that what it wants is at least 10,000 cubic feet of water, regardless of the effect on the lakes. If the Illinois river project is carried through it will afford additional pressure on congress to let down the bars on water diversion. There will be this large investment to "protect" and utilize.

The time to nip this conspiracy while it is in the bud. Fifty members of the house from states more immediately concerned with the conservation of the Great lakes have organized to defeat this scheme of Chicago to raid both the lakes and the treasury. There is no more reason for connecting the Chicago drainage canal with the Mississippi river than there is of digging canals in Arizona. It is purely a political move, and a smoke screen behind which to steal water from Lake Michigan. There is no commerce for this waterway that cannot already be taken care of. One of the first arguments in its favor is that it will afford a cheap transportation outlet to midwest grain producers, an altogether silly contention. Practically all of their grain today is within easy access of the Mississippi river, an established water outlet superior to what the Illinois river and the Chicago drainage canal could ever afford, but it is not used. Neither will the Illinois river be used to more than a nominal extent.

All the hullabaloo about this waterway is dust in the eyes of the nation so that it will not see the crime that is to be perpetrated on the Great lakes. The lake states representatives in congress should leave no stone unturned to defeat this legislation, for which not the slightest excuse exists at this time. Furthermore if there are to be extensive waterway projects authorized, the St. Lawrence Seaway should have preference over all others.

TODAY'S POEM

By HAL COCHRAN

I'm thrilled as can be, when a youngster I see,
Who has only just come to this world. Queer feelings
I feel when I see when a wee little thing from a blanket
Of blue is unfurled.
That wonder sensation, of God's own creation,
With sweetness itself is endowed. I gaze at the Treasure and then, full of pleasure, I feel just like Shouting out loud:
"You sweet little thing, you are very much like A breath from a beautiful rose. How wee is your Size, and how blinky your eyes, and how pucky, Plump is your nose.
"I smile when you sigh, and I sigh when you cry,
And I love you, asleep or awake. In arms I would Fold you, I'm aching to hold and yet I'm afraid you Will break.
"Your hair is all crinkly; your skin kinda pinkie.
Through big eyes of blue you can see, And yet,
You don't know—and you won't tell you grow—just How wonderful babies can be."

DO I HEAR SEVENTY-FIVE

On his seventy-second birthday, a recently third anniversary the late Luther Burbank amused himself and the nation (through the movie news picture) by rolling some somersaults on his lawn. I intended to use the testimonial, but before I could get around to it the plaid wizard spoiled the story by going away without leaving a forwarding address.

But here's a better one from a man who, I rather expect to admit, spends the winter in Florida. This man first asks for my letters, and you know that means the common respiratory infections and only young people are interested in that—and then he goes on to say:

"Five or six years ago, after reading your health talks, I commenced doing the somersault act. I was then a stiff old man. Today, thanks to your advice, I am 74 years young and shall continue to turn over five or six times morning and night unless you advise to the contrary." (E. W.)

This testimonial of E. W.'s is dated March 13, 1926. I hope he is still rolling along.

Away back in 1919 a live woman aged 55 years, told in a communication which I published May 31 of that year, how she had been rolling 'em for two years. At first she could hardly turn six in a row, as the effort made her dizzy—a sure sign one needs these somersaults—and some times she suffered nausea, but she persevered and finally she became so young that she could roll 20 or more at a time with ease and enjoyment. She said she didn't roll 'em on the bare floor, but used a couple of large hair pillows as a mat.

On the same day I printed a communication from another live one, a man who called himself "an old codger between 50 and 100." This lawyer said he first whanged his poor spine on the floor a few times and then used two pillows end to end as a mat. He soon learned to roll 'em and come up smiling every time, to the envy and admiration of his sons who were recently discharged from the army and navy.

Somersaulting is not so much exercise as they are mechanical therapy. In doing a roll, either forward or backward, one irons out kinks, stirs up the more or less stagnant splanchnic pool, that great network of vessels in the abdomen and lower chest which will hold at least a third of all the blood of the body, opposes intestinal stasis or constipation, aids digestion, prevents flatulence (gas), improves the circulation, prevents cold feet, opposes salivary process of the complexion and prevents the blues. For girls and women the half dozen rolls each morning and evening will prevent many functional difficulties.

It is always necessary to point out to the novice that Old Doctor Noah Webster is all wrong about somersaults. A somersault is not a "flying leap in the air in which a person turns heels over head"—anybody who tries that need not sue me for damages—but just a roll in the vertical plane. Any child will show you how to roll a somersault. Old fogies had better take it easy and have somebody assist them the first time over. One should learn to come up smiling and squarely up on the feet, before even attempting the backward somersault. But backward rolls are easy after you've mastered the technique of the ordinary revolution.

LARGER JAILS,

Government Is Using One-third of All City and County Jails

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C.—A few days ago it was announced that with the government penitentiaries filled to capacity, Attorney General Sargent had issued an order that local jails be used to harbor the overflow of federal prisoners. This is cited as evidence that Uncle Sam must have more and bigger jails and that the emergency is so serious as to require immediate action by congress.

Officials of the American Prison association agree that there can be no doubt about this. They say, however, that it is by no means a new condition or development that is revealed by the order of the Attorney General. Dr. Hastings H. Hart, chairman of the Associations' committee on jails and Consultant in Penology at the Russell Sage Foundation, submitted a report to the last annual meeting of the organization stating that the United States Government no jails of its own was using one-third of all the city and county jails in the country. More than 7000 prisoners, it was asserted, were being boarded out in local jails over which the Federal Government has no control and many of which are desperately overcrowded and reeking of moral and physical filth.

And now Dr. Hart has addressed a communication to the 130 judges of the United States District Courts urging them to institute grand jury investigations of the conditions under which Federal prisoners are jailed in their respective districts.

"The county jail today is unquestionably a prolific source of crime," says this letter to Federal judges. "and Federal prisoners in common with others suffer from its destructive influence. It can be converted into an agency for the decrease of crime if the subject is intelligently studied and treated. It is exceedingly important that this subject should be approached from the standpoint of common sense and practical wisdom rather than from the sentiment, sensation, or revenge."

The letter also calls the attention of the judges to the recommendation of the American Prison Association that Federal Government at this time should give careful consideration to the establishment of a jail system of its own, each jail to cover districts where the number of Federal prisoners is large or where the local jail accommodations are inadequate, and that in connection with the Federal penal system there be established a training school for prison officers similar to that maintained by the British government in which both preliminary and advanced training be provided.

SERIOUS CONDITIONS CHARGED

The Hart report refers to county jails as breeding places and schools of crime. It cites jails where prisoners are being herded like hogs in a stockyard and others that are crowded to the point of suffocation. Even in the largest jails in New York City, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Chicago, and Denver, the report says there is no adequate provision for segregating prisoners, with the result that prisoners inextricably in crime, committed to prison for the first time—including those awaiting trial detained as witnesses or imprisoned for failure to pay fines for minor offenses—are forced into close association with hardened criminals and

A POOR NEIGHBOR

Editor Post-Crescent—Now that "clean up" time is at hand, it is, I believe, opportune to speak of a matter which is in the minds of many of our First Ward residents.

Perhaps it is natural (?) for those who reside in Appleton only ten months out of the twelve for one, two, or say three four years at the most to care little or not at all about the appearance of the outside premises. But if this be the case, Appleton should not tolerate it.

A Fraternity of Lawrence college purchased one of the most beautiful sites in Appleton just a little more than a year ago. However, through absence of artistic appreciation or the indigence or both, they have wrought havoc with it. It is now merely a dumping ground for antiquated automobiles and a recreational center especially for barney and golf.

Is education doing for those young people what it should?

There are numerous young men and women in this city of ours who are maintaining homes which are a credit, not only inside but outside, to the city, and they have never seen the inside of a college, nor have they had the opportunity of a course in Art.

To them that much is given, of them much is required and so it is with this Lawrence fraternity.

The article entitled Fraternity's Poor Neighbor which appeared in one of our daily papers quite recently should, it seems to me, cause our young friends of this fraternity to consider well what they had better do in consideration for those about them. If not, its members should be refused the purchase of property in any desirable locality.

Could not this obnoxious condition be removed by periodic inspection on the part of President Wriston or a member of the Lawrence college faculty? It is true that one of the patrons of this fraternity is the Professor of Art at Lawrence college?

A First Ward Tax Payer

other prisoners of the vilest character.

Bad sanitation, indiscriminate mixing of prisoners, enforced idleness, lack of any Federal control over Government prisoners housed in city, state, or county jails, and the practice of paying a per diem rate for boarding prisoners so that the income of the jailer or sheriff, and the support of his family and the education of children, depend in part upon the amount of money he can save out of the allowance for feeding prisoners, are other evils to which the attention of the judges is directed.

The greatest congestion of Federal prisoners is said to be at points along the Canadian and Mexican borders, and it is there that the Government should first develop a jail system of its own if it undertakes to deal with the problem in accordance with the judgment of prison experts. The system would then be extended until the Government has jails in all thickly settled sections of the country.

The report of the American Prison Association committee shows that there has been a very great increase only in the number of Federal prisoners boarded out to municipal and county jails, but also in the population of the three Federal penitentiaries, the latter having doubled in the last five years and more than trebled in the last fifteen years.

"I hope you'll believe me my son"

We could say that in introducing to Appleton such striking new shirtings—that it gives us as much pleasure as it does you—but until a man slips the ends of a gorgeous new tie over the uncommon beauty of one of this new lot—well—you might say that he has never had such smartness up his sleeve.

TWO FLOORS OF GOOD THINGS TO WEAR

Adventures In The Library

By ARNOLD MULDER

THE ACCIDENTAL NATURE OF GREAT NOVELS

How accidental many great novels are is illustrated by the career of Theodore Dreiser. Mr. Dreiser is very much in the literary public's eye just now because of the publication of "An American Tragedy," a two volume novel of some 700 or 800 pages.

This is the first novel Dreiser has published since he came out with "The Genius" in 1915 a period of 11 years, as long as the whole literary lifetime of some writers. Why he did not publish a novel in all those years we have not been told. His experience with "The Genius" was discouraging. It caused a lawsuit and the withdrawal of the book from publication because of its alleged unbecoming nature. It was not until a year or two ago that the ban was removed from "The Genius" and it was possible to republish it.

But it is inconceivable that that had anything to do with the long hiatus between "The Genius" and "An American Tragedy." Inconceivable because Dreiser must be thoroughly habituated to that kind of thing. When he published "Sister Carrie" about 1900 about the same kind of thing happened to him. Although the book was not legally barred it was estranged in a day when such wishy washy literature as "When Knighthood Was in Flower" was engaging the attention of the American people. And for 10 to 11 years Dreiser did not publish another novel.

STARTED SHORT SPURT

Then there was a spurt of great literary activity and he published in close succession such novels as "Jennie Gerhardt," "The Financier," "The Titan," and "The Genius." And a long period of apparently barren years before the appearance of "An American Tragedy."

It is likely that no novelist who had any conception of the business end of novel writing would have written his books in that way. He would have had more system about it, publishing while the publishing was good, gathering in the dollars while they were there to be gathered, taking advantage of the advertising. A writer like Harold Bell Wright, spaces his novels with the exactness of an adding machine—one every two years, rain or shine. Others write one every year, and some two a year. The are good business men and they know what they are doing.

But Theodore Dreiser appears to take novel writing seriously. It seems likely that the whole secret of the long periods of literary barrenness lies in the fact that he could not write a novel during those years. The mental and spiritual "breaks" were against him. The accidents of life did not favor literary fecundity. The things did not happen to his inner life that made it possible to transmute that inner life into fiction. It was not lastness. That is proved by the fact that he wrote a number of books of non-fiction during those years. For a serious novelist non-fiction is much easier to write than an authentic novel. Non-fiction has to be manufactured; fiction has to grow.

It is altogether likely that Dreiser tried, novel writing during both of his periods of fictional inactivity. He very probably wrote book after book, or rather tried to write them, experimenting with the material he had in his system but failing, like a chemist who cannot get the right combinations and is forced to destroy the labor of years.

SOME FORCE NOVELS

The average novelist who is more business man than artist can force a novel. If there is no novel in his mind and heart he can fake one and he can do it so competently that he is himself deceived. That is why he can produce with businesslike regularity. To the genuine artist, faking a novel is like selling wife or child, prostitution of a much more shameful nature than physical prostitution.

He is at the mercy of the accidents of life. If the material of a novel happens to him he can write one; if not he is helpless. I do not know for certain that this is true of Dreiser but I suspect that it is. And whatever one may think of his published novels, the man's integrity is worth keeping in mind in coming to a conclusion about the virtue or lack of virtue of his novels. His view life may conceivably be all wrong but at least he holds it with a consistency and an honesty that commands respect.

Hemstitching is the only trimming on a well-tailored two-piece crepe de Chine frock. It comes in beige, white, pink, blue, yellow and green. Why not buy two in different colors? $16.75.

"Will Wash Silk Crepe," a fabric resembling flat crepe only heavier, is particularly fashionable and makes an intriguing little dress in peasant style with gay embroidery on the full sleeves and skirt. Its collar is convertible. $16.75.

First Tub Silk Frocks of Summer

Cool, attractive and easily laundered — these are the things that cause many women to stock their summer wardrobe with pretty Tub Silk Frocks. Anticipating their wishes, our dress buyer hunted up the best looking Frocks obtainable. Then it was decided to make this a special event, hence the low price of $10.75 on each dress. Don't miss seeing them and plan now to buy one or two that will assure a cool, comfortable summer.

DIRECTORS OF GAME CLUB VOTE TO JOIN WALTONS

Decide to Leave State Association of Fish and Game Clubs

Outagamie County Fish and Game Protective association will dissolve at the end of the next fiscal year if action taken by the board of directors at a meeting last week at the office of the secretary, H. L. Bowly, is approved by members of the organization.

The organization will affiliate with the J. L. Walton League according to the tentative program adopted by the directors, because this league is much more active than the state fish and game association, according to Mr. Bowly.

The action will affect 302 members of the county organization according to Mr. Bowly. The membership of the club is over 400 but only 302 have paid their dues for the ensuing year.

Officers of the organization are: Alfred Bradford, president; R. W. Chafferson, vice president; H. L. Bowly, secretary-treasurer. Directors are: Walter Gmeiner, W. R. Harwood, Dr. George Massart, Fred V. Heinemann and P. A. W. Hammond.

Another meeting of the board of directors will be held about June 1. A discussion of the program made with the breeding of the pheasants bought by the association for the purpose of stocking the county was held. The birds, which are being cared for by various members in Appleton, Shawano and Bear Creek are getting along nicely and it is expected that the association will be able to liberate a large number of birds in fall.

MILWAUKEE ROAD MAKES ANNUAL TIE INSPECTION

Regular spring work of section old ties and worn out track started last week on the Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad tracks.

Each spring a crew of three men with R. Jenny, division engineer, start from Milwaukee and work on the Wisconsin division of this railroad. On this inspection the men count every tie on the main line and also on the sidings and all worn out ties are marked. It takes these four men approximately one month to inspect this stretch of about 225 miles of railroad. The crew passed through Appleton last week on their inspection tour.

BOTH CARELESS, JURORS HOLD

Defendant and Plaintiff Both Blamed for Automobile Accident

Both plaintiff and defendant in the suit for damages brought by Fred J. Sager of the town of Greenville, against Martin Alberts, Menasha, neglected to use ordinary care when the sedan driven by Sager struck the Alberts truck on the Appleton Medina road on the evening of Jan. 24, a municipal court jury decided in its verdict Monday afternoon.

Damages of the sedan were fixed at $40 by the jury. The jury found that the defendant failed to exercise ordinary care in parking his car, and that want of ordinary care on the part of the plaintiff in operating his car contributed to cause the collision.

The accident happened when Alberts' truck, loaded with stove wood, broke down on the Appleton-Medina road, about two miles west of Appleton. Sager, with his wife and four children, was returning home when his sedan struck the truck which had been left partly on the highway.

Alberts had filed a counterclaim for $68 damages.

The jury went out at 12:20 and adjourned for lunch until 1:30. The verdict was brought in at 5:15.

SET NEW TRIAL FOR RICH BADGER

Grant Continuance Motion of Resident of Marinette Charged With Arson

Menominee Mich. —(P)— A motion for continuance by John J. Ohara, attorney for the defense, in the David E. Crawford case was granted by Judge Richard C. Flannigan, following a hearing on the case here Monday in the May term of circuit court. The date for the new trial was set for July 26.

Crawford, a resident of Marinette and who owns practically all the property in the village of Cedar River, Michigan which was destroyed by fire June 6, 1925, is charged with arson.

In support of his motion Attorney Ohara stated that Tony Petrovich, a material witness for the defense could not be located and also that he would seek to prove that Tim Petroff who was permitted to appear in court by action of Governor Blaine of Wisconsin, while serving a term in Wisconsin state prison, knew nothing of the circumstances in connection with the fire as he had at been in Menominee-co, at the time.

Biliousness

and constipation come from a weak stomach

You can help Nature
end this trouble

If your Stomach and Liver are weak, your food is not digested. This causes food to be held up in your body. The usual result is constipation, which causes headache and severe gas pains. For 55 years, people have sensibly corrected this condition by using Chamberlain's Tablets for the Stomach and Liver. They help the digestive organs stop chronic constipation. Get Chamberlain's Tablets today at any Drug Store, only 25c.

TOURIST MAPS IN NEW C. OF C. CITY BOOKLET

Committee Gathering Data for Pamphlet to Advertise
Appleton

Information for the booklet which will be prepared by the chamber of commerce on Appleton, in which the advantages of the city as a place to live will be set forth, is being gathered by the committee in charge of the work, according to E. L. Madison, chairman. The committee is carrying out the work in as rapid and thorough a manner as possible so that the booklet will be completed and ready for distribution early in the tourist season.

During the past week H. A. Schmitz, a member of the committee, has been mapping out routes for tourists to points of interest in this vicinity. A description of a number of these routes will be an important part of the booklet.

Data concerning the industrial, business, social, educational, recreational and spiritual life of the city also will be compiled and published in the booklet. Other members of the committee in charge of the work are Eugene Colvin and Hugh G. Corbett.

A large number of the booklets will be turned over to the Wisconsin Land O'Lakes association for distribution to tourists. The association distributed similar booklets from other cities, furnishing them, thus advertising the cities as well as the state to tourists.

GRAND JURY CALLED SUPER-FLUOUS

The elimination of the of the county grand jury as a court adjunct, which happened some months ago "has been a distinct success" in the opinion of district attorney A. A. Sedillo of Albuquerque, N. M. For the term of court opening the latter part of March only twelve new cases were set, these going directly to the petit jury. The only serious case was one of manslaughter, growing out of a motor accident.

PREVENT Disease by Rotating Your Stock

Farms that are adequately fenced with Apex permit of stock as well as crops being rotated. This provides clean pasture each year. Germs and parasites are left behind to be plowed under. The land is benefited because of the spread of manure. Hogs produced in this way grow faster and make more pork with less grain than those produced in any other way. There are fewer runts and a much larger percentage live to be marketed. Obviously in order to handle stock in this profitable manner the farm must be fenced and cross fenced hog-tight. Farmers have found that this kind of fencing pays. Apex portable Fence (portable because of the convenient steel posts and flexible swinging joints which make it easy to roll and unroll) has helped eliminate the cause of many hog and sheep diseases.

Board of Public Works Recommends That Council Accept Plan

Special to Post-Crescent

New London—Several petitions for building permits were received by the city council at its meeting in the city hall Tuesday evening. Rolland D. Hart applied for permission to build a chicken coop on E. Pine-st. This petition, which had come through the board of public works, was granted by the council. Arthur Bunke petitioned for a permit to erect a garage on his property on Main-st. E. Rand for a garage on the Dexter plat. A. M. Ross, for a garage on East Cook-st. Charles Smith for a house on the Redox-Smith plat, Freiburger and Mulhany, for a garage on Oshkosh-st. George Melkjohn for a garage on Smith-st. and like them for a garage on S. Pearl-st. All were referred to the board of public works.

A concrete sidewalk for East Spring-st. from S. Pearl-st. to the Anson property, was allowed, and a petition for a walk on S. Pearl-st. from Var-rast to block 17 of Jennings' Heights, which was presented by several property owners, was referred to the board of public works.

The board of public works reported that it had held a meeting on April 27 for the purpose of hearing complaints against the grade which has been adopted for the Mill-st paving project, and as no complaints had been forthcoming, it recommended that the grade be accepted by the council as it had been prepared by the city engineer. This was done by the council.

The board also reported that it had held a meeting on April 30 to confer with owners property along which it is proposed to build an extension of the Oshkosh-st. sewer, and that the majority of those present had requested that the work be begun as soon as possible. The board therefore recommended that the council give the project its consideration in the 1927 budget.

The Catholic Woman's club was granted permission to sell ice cream at the band concert which will be given in the city park next summer. The proceeds of the sales to go to the building fund of the new Catholic church.

An application for a soft drink license by Henry Dekel, and was referred to the license committee and the chief of police.

A surety bond on the city treasurer, by the United States Fidelity and Surety company, for the amount of $10,000 to cover the present two year term, was presented, and likewise on the city clerk, with the same company, for $5,000. They were approved by the mayor and council.

It was voted by the council that permission be granted the city clerk to close his office Saturday afternoon, from May 8 to Oct. 2, as is the custom, except when Saturdays within this period happen to fall on the fourteenth or fifteenth day of the month, the closing dates for light and water payments.

The mayor and city attorney were elected delegates to represent this city at the annual convention of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities which is to be held at La Crosse June 15, 17 and 18. They will go at the expense of the city.

Bids on city printing were opened. Those which dealt with printing of the records, notices, and proceedings of the city council and other city boards and commissions, were received from M. Roland & Co., at the rate of 75c per folio, and from J. E. Goss, at the rate of 60c per folio. All bids were rejected, for new bids authorized to be received for new bids on council proceedings only. The clerk also was authorized to advertise for bids on the proposed addition to the city hall, the bids to be figured on labor and materials for the building from the foundation upwards, and according to plans and specifications on file in the city clerk's office. They will be opened

FOR ENLARGING
SIGL GARAGE

Council Hears Protests from St. John-st Residents
Against New Building

New London—A large number of property owners on St. John-st. sent a formal protest to the city council at its meeting in the city hall Tuesday evening against the pending construction of an addition to the Sigl garage by Victor Thomas, its owner. It is proposed to build an addition to the west end of the garage, adjoining St. John-st. The objection of the property owners is that it would change the street from what they now term a part of the residential section to a business district, thereby decreasing the value of abutting property for residential purposes, and also that the street is not wide enough to permit the parking of cars along it.

Mr. Thomas, owner of the present building, was present at the meeting as well as a number of objecting property owners. He stated that it was his intention that the proposed new addition would be used merely as a show room for cars in stock, and that no public entrance such as would require the presence of a large number of automobiles on that section of the street, was contemplated. Dr. G. T. Dawley, Dr. C. D. Hemmy, and the Rev. F. S. Dayton, were present, and spoke for those who are objecting to the proposition.

The objectors requested that the applied for permit should not be granted by the council.

W. J. Butler, city attorney, said that it might not be possible for the city to refuse the petition for the permit, on the grounds that Mr. Thomas had purchased the land upon which the proposed new building would be constructed at the time that he had built the present part garage, with the intention of adding onto it later. He said there is a question as to whether or not St. John-st. is now a residential or business street.

The council laid the matter on the table until its meeting on May 18.

LIBRARY CIRCULATION
SHOWS LARGE INCREASE

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Circulation of books at the local public library during the months of March and April showed a record breaking increase, according to library records. The number of books loaned in March was 3,659. The highest record for any month previous to this time being 3,337, which was in March, 1924. The greatest number of books loaned on any one day in March was 250. The total number of books loaned in April of this year was 3,242, or 710 books more than for the same month in 1925.

An average of 33 new borrowers were registered for each month so far this year, bringing the total of new borrowers who have applied for cards so far this year up to 132. About 230 new books were added during the first four months of the present year.

LIBRARY GETS EAGLE SHOT IN LEBANON SWAMP

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—The large American eagle which was shot several weeks ago in Lebanon swamp near this city, by a man who had gone gunning for the bird after it had been declared to be a menace to stock, has been returned here by the Audubon Vark Shop, taxidermists, of Chicago. The bird was given to the local city museum, and was sent by the curator of the museum, the Rev. F. S. Dayton to the Chicago firm for mounting. It had a wing spread of seven feet six inches and was four years old. According to Mr. Dayton, the bird is very rare hereabouts, and would be uncommonly hard to secure as a specimen for museums under ordinary circumstances. It is now on display at the Crispy show window on North Water-st. It has been mounted on a limb of a tree, and in the position which the bird assumes on the American coat of arms.

IMPROVE THIRD
WARD, SULLIVAN
URGES COUNCIL

Mayor Points Out Poor Condition of Roads on South Side

Kaukauna—Otto Haas, L. C. Wolf, Hugo Weisenbach and Edward Haas were elected members of the utility commission at a meeting of the city council Tuesday evening in the municipal building. The mayor appointed E. R. Landreman, Arthur Schmalz, Louis Faust, Hugo Lemke and Joseph Murphy as members of the police and fire commission, and J. B. Kendall, Nicholas Heindel and Edward Reas, as members of the park board. The contract for paving one block of Wisconsin-ave, the remaining stretch of Taylor-st and Depot-st from the north line of Wisconsin-ave to the south line of Draper-st, was awarded to the Joseph McCarty Construction company of this city and the type of pavement decided upon was bituminous. The work will be started at once. William Smith, high school athletic coach, was reengaged as playground instructor for the summer and will receive $500 for his services.

Mayor Sullivan told members of the council that the present dilapidated condition of the third ward resembled some foreign settlement more than a progressive civilized community. He said that the roads were in terrible condition and had been that way for the past few years. He added that for the people in that ward, who are for the most part of the laboring class, had been promised year after year that something would be done to fix up the ward and that nothing had ever been done.

The mayor pointed out that the third ward is the most progressive part of the south side and that there has been more building going on there than in the rest of the south side. Mayor Sullivan said that when he was a candidate for the office of mayor he would see that the third ward was fixed up and that now he intended to carry out every one of his promises. He added that if the committee for the south road district didn't get the work done by July 4 that he would see that it was done himself.

During the council meeting it was brought out that the new city nurse, Miss Helen Grant, was not on duty here in the city because in her training she had failed to take the state six weeks health course which the state requires of every nurse. Miss Grant has had four years experience at DePere and thought that in that case it would not be necessary for her to take the course. However, when she got in touch with Dr. Harper of the state health commission, he refused to let her serve in the capacity of city nurse unless she had the course and the only place she can secure it is out of the state. A final ruling on the case is expected in a few days.

K. C.'S TO CONDUCT
SPELLING CONTEST

Kaukauna—The Knights of Columbus will hold a parochial school spelling match in their club rooms Monday evening during their regular meeting time. Superintendent of schools James Cavanaugh will be in charge of the contest. Five of the best students in spelling from each of the parochial schools in Kaukauna, Wrightstown, Little Chute, Kimberly, Hollandtown and other nearby villages will be entered.

Holy Cross school of this city was the winner of the cup last year. A silver loving cup will be awarded to the winning school and the name of the school will be engraved upon it.

SALARY OF MANY CITY EMPLOYEES IS RAISED

Kaukauna—The utility commission met Monday and substantially increased the salaries and wages of all employees of the electrical and water departments. This is in accord with the policy of the mayor that city employees be paid a fair living wage.

MATCHES OF TENNIS
CLUB ARE POSTPONED

Kaukauna—All matches of the Kaukauna Tennis club scheduled for this week have been called off on account of the rainy weather which has made the courts unfit for play. This week's schedule will run off next week on the same day. It is possible that several extra matches will be added to the schedule if the third court is ready for use.

KAUKAUNA PERSONALS

Kaukauna—Mrs. H. E. Cooke left Wednesday for Oconto where she will attend the district meeting of the Wisconsin Federation of Women's clubs.
Postmaster A. R. Mills is spending several days in Kewaunee visiting W. J. Kowalko.

L'FOLLETTE AND EKERN TO SPEAK
HERE SATURDAY

Farmers Will Act as Hosts to Speakers Throughout Entire Day

Kaukauna—Philip LaFollette, the youngest son of the late Senator Robert M. La Follette and at present district attorney of Dane-co, and Herman A. Ekern, Wisconsin attorney-general, will speak at the pig fair and street celebration to be held here Saturday. They will arrive in Kaukauna early in the morning and will be welcomed by a committee of farmers from this vicinity, who will be their hosts throughout the day.

La Follette and Ekern will be at the fair grounds all Saturday morning and at noon there will be a dinner party in their honor at one of the local hotels. At 1:30 in the afternoon each speaker will deliver a short address on the south side and at 2:30 they will speak from the veranda of the Congress hotel on the north side.

A large parade will be one of the features of the evening. All floats will be illuminated by special lights. The streets will be flooded with light from the mammoth city search lights. The Oneida Indian band and the Wrightstown band will furnish music on both sides of the river in the afternoon and evening. Approximately 50 clowns have been engaged for the occasion and will wind their way through the streets of the city making merry. Many of the stores have hired clowns to act as clerks during the day. In the evening there will be Charleston and other dance contests. Many novelties will be introduced. The north side merchants association has planned many special features to be presented on the north side.

There will be pig buyers present from as far south as Racine and all farmers will bring their cattle into town Saturday morning.

STUDENTS WILL ATTEND CONTEST

Winners of Forensic Contest at Oshkosh Will Compete in State Meet

Kaukauna—Kaukauna high school students are preparing to accompany their oratorical and declamatory representatives to Oshkosh Friday night for the district high school forensic contest. Dorothy Van Lieshout and Helen Weisenbach will represent Kaukauna in extemporaneous reading. William Ashe and Leo Schmalz will hold up the oratorical end of the contest and Edna Sager will represent Kaukauna in declamatory.

The representatives have been spending all of their spare moments preparing for the contests. Miss Nemacheck and Miss Handran are coaching the students.

The winner of first place in each of the contests will go to the state contest at Madison where the winners of seven districts, the winners of the Fox river valley conference and the best speakers from the Milwaukee schools will compete. The forensic contests are scheduled to start at 1:30 in the afternoon. Extemporaneous reading is scheduled for that hour and the oratorical contest will start at 2:30. Extemporaneous speaking will start at 7 o'clock in the evening and declamatory at 8 o'clock.

Social Items

Kaukauna—The Ladies Aid society of the First Congregational church will hold a rummage sale in the church hall Saturday, May 8. The ladies have arranged several interesting innovations for the sale.

Mrs. John Reagenius will entertain the German Reading circle Thursday afternoon in her home. The afternoon will be spent in reading German literature.

Miss Laura Buelow entertained the G. R. club at her home Tuesday evening. The time was spent in sewing.

St. Anne's choir, No. 226, Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, had a large attendance at its regular meeting Tuesday evening in the club rooms. The May Birthday club entertained after the business meeting. Mrs. J. Willenette is chairman. Cards were played and prizes at schafkopf were won by Mrs. Otto Cook, Mrs. Bay and Mrs. John Haas, at five hundred by Mrs. Joseph Mutholz and at rummy by Mrs. Benjamin Faust.

Plans are being made to hold a Masonic dinner in Congress hotel on the evening of May 17. Invitations already have been issued and a large number of out of town Masons are expected.

Delegates from the Kaukauna Women's club left Friday for Oconto to attend the district meeting of the Wisconsin Federation of Women's clubs. Mrs. H. S. Cooke, Mrs. B. J. Crouch, Mrs. W. P. Hagman and Mrs. C. D. Boyd are the Kaukauna delegates.

WISCONSIN DEATHS

MRS. A. M. PENNEY
Waupaca—The funeral of Mrs. A. M. Penney, 72, who died Saturday morning at her home here from pneumonia, was held Monday afternoon from the residence with the Rev. du Dumaire in charge. Interment was in Lakeside cemetery.

Mary Jane Fowler was born in Montreal, Canada, March 3, 1884, and came to Wisconsin with her parents when a child. She was married to Adelbert M. Penney on Sept. 15, 1874. The couple resided on a farm in the town of Farmington until about 38 years ago, when they came to this city. Three children were born to them. They are Mrs. George Pugh of Kenosha, Mrs. Charles Sawyer, who died in 1916, and Mrs. Barry Townsend of Waupaca. Mr. Penney died in 1922.

Besides the children, the deceased is survived by four brothers, John of Waupaca, William of Waukegan, George of White Sulphur Springs, Montana, and Walter, whose residence is unknown, and one granddaughter, Mrs. John Lucia of this city.

MICHAEL MCKEEVER
Special to Post-Crescent
Stevens Point—The funeral of Michael McKeever, 63, who died on Thursday after a short illness of pneumonia, was held at St. Patrick church Saturday morning. Rev. Father Leonard officiating. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery. The deceased is survived by his widow, four sons and three daughters, Mrs. Beatrice Lehner of Oakland, Jacob of Appleton and Leonard, Elmer, Elsie, George and Inez at home.

HANS PAULSON
Waupaca—Funeral services for Hans Paulson, 76, who died at his home here Friday, was held Tuesday afternoon from the residence. The Reverend Naarup conducted the service and burial was in Lakeside cemetery.

The deceased was born in Leland, Denmark, on Dec. 5, 1849, and came to Waupaca in 1889. He is survived by his widow and five children, Christine and Louise of this city, Elmer and Mrs. Chris Hanson of the town of Waupaca, and William of Minneapolis, Minn.

JULIUS OELKE
Dale—The funeral of Julius Oelke, 71, years old, who died at his home here last week, was held at the Lutheran church Sunday afternoon with the Rev. P. Reier in charge. Burial was in the cemetery.

Buriers were nephews of the deceased, Herman Linstead, Henry Klesow, Louis Bohman, Henry Kuehl and Ed Klesberg. Flower girls were Vera and Orla Oelke, Alberta Schultze.

Julius Oelke was born in Germany and came to America with his parents, 70 years ago. They settled in the town of Winchester in 1878. He was married to Mathilda Klesberg 29 years ago and they moved to a farm east of the village where they lived nine years. They then came to the village. Mr. Oelke was affiliated with the First National bank for years and for the past six years has been its president. He resigned because of his illness a short time ago. Mrs. Oelke, one son, Henry of Appleton.

Two grandchildren, Vera and Orla Oelke, of Appleton and one brother, Albert Oelke of Dale, survive.

CHIROPRACTIC For Working People

If there is one thing which is imperative for the working man and working woman to possess, it is health. It matters not how good a job you have, you are forced to occasionally "lay off" because of sickness.

You may not be sick enough to be confined to bed. You may even be able to do your work after a fashion, but you are by no means well.

You take little interest in your work. You are sometimes hardly able to drag one foot after the other. Already your co-workers are wondering how long you will last. Sooner or later you will be laid your day of usefulness has ended, and you will be forced to seek a new job. You have lost your health. It is therefore your duty to yourself and family to conserve your health so that you will not be relegated on the "scrap heap." What will do it? Not poisoning your system with drugs. Not mutilating your body with the surgeon's knife.

Chiropractic adjustments will make you healthy and keep you healthy. The Chiropractor locates the cause of your trouble and adjusts the same.

The cause will invariably be found in nerve pressure which, in its turn, it caused by subluxated (displaced) vertebrae (small bones of the spine). Directly this nerve pressure is relieved, the vital force will flow on uninterrupted from the brain to the various organs, and you will possess that which you seek—health.

Gelzer of a woman's dramatic struggle against adjusting her ideals to the lower standards of her associates.

Miss Rich plays Joan Trevore, and is said by reviewers in other cities to have surpassed the brilliant even of such performances as those in "The Lost Lady," "My Wife and I," "The Wife Who Wasn't Wanted," and "The Pleasure Buyers."

Clive Brook plays Alan Thayer, Joan's husband, whom her half-sister, Nathalie (Pauline Garon), entices away from her. Mr. Brook was recently seen in "The Woman Hater" and "Seven Sinners" for Warner Bros.

Pauline Garon, recently seen in "Satan in Sables," starring Lowell Sherman, plays the alluring bit of selfishness that is called Nathalie Trevore.

Louise Fazenda is Hilda, a Swedish maid, and those who have seen her in previous production, notably in her recent appearance in "Booed Hair," will be interested to learn that her present characterization gives her even greater opportunity for humorous situations.

JETTA GOUDAL HAS VAMPIRIC ROLE IN "PARIS AT MIDNIGHT"
Jetta Goudal, rising screen star who achieved artistic triumphs in "The Road to Yesterday" and "Three Faces East" and who plays the featured feminine role in Frances Marion's new Metropolitan picture production, "Paris at Midnight," which will be shown at the Fischers Appleton Theatre, next Friday, Saturday and Sunday, is perhaps, without an equal in the rendition of emotional roles, into which are fused light vampiric touches.

In searching for a player to enact the role of Delphine in this production, Frances Marion, who adapted the story from Balzac's novel "Pere Goriot," selected Jetta Goudal. Delphine is a heartless, cruel, selfish beauty, whose love of adventure and pleasure makes her forget the struggles of her poor father, whom she fleeced, so that she might enjoy a life of luxury and ease.

During the progress of a student's ball where Delphine reigns as queen, her dying father sends a message to her begging that she see him. She shudders at the thought of going to the hotel where her father lies, and refuses until Eugene, an artist, drags her to her father's bedside.

With Miss Goudal, Lionel Barrymore, Mary Brian and Edmund Burns are featured, while in the supporting cast are Emile Chautard, Jocelyn Lee, Brandon Hurst, Mathilde Comont and a host of other screen celebrities.

FOUR STARS IN COLUMBIA'S WALDORF FILM FEATURE
Four stars are at the head of the cast in the newest of the Waldorf series of Columbia productions. This is "The Fate of a Flirt," at the New Bijou today and Thursday.

Dorothy Revier, the lovely young favorite, is one of the chief players. Miss Revier has done many brilliant portrayals for Columbia but this is said to be her big success. The beautiful star, whose portrait will soon be exhibited at the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia, was enthusiastically praised in the pre-view notices.

Along with Miss Revier is Forrest Stanley, the popular leading man, who has a unique role in the production. Mr. Stanley, often called "the man who never smiles," has made a sensational record as a comedian under the Columbia banner. Thomas Rickets, whose "Stepping Out" will never be forgotten, has a principal part. And Phillips Smalley is another name known to many thousands. Frank R. Strayer directed the story by Janet Crothers.

YOUNGSTERS OF M. E. CHURCH IN BIRDHOUSE RACE

Men's Friendship Class Sponsors Contest, Exhibit and Nature Program

The bird house contest and exhibit and the program in connection with it was held at First Methodist church Wednesday evening, May 12, has been postponed to Monday, May 13, so as not to interfere with the concert by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra in Lawrence Memorial chapel May 12. The contest, which is open to the boys of the church from 8 to 15 years of age, is being sponsored by the Men's Friendship class. The contest is held in three sections, the first is open to boys from 8 to 10 years, the second for those from 10 to 12; the third for those from 12 to 15. Two prizes will be awarded in each section. Persons attending the contest will be given the opportunity to purchase bird houses on exhibit, providing the builders care to sell them.

In connection with the contest a program has been arranged. Prof. Rufus M. Bagges, head of the geology department of Lawrence college, will give a talk on birds and bird life and a short history of prehistoric bird life.

Lytle Jorgensen, whistling soloist, will give a program of bird calls. An exhibit of birds from the college museum will be on display and Mrs. E. Louise Ellis will exhibit a personal collection of unique bird houses.

A moving picture depicting various phases of bird life will be shown during the evening and Dr. J. A. Holmes, pastor of the church, will give a short talk on wild bird life he has seen in his hunting trips.

The program and exhibit will be conducted in the gymnasium of the church.

Go To Library For Books On How To Make Gardens

The warm weather of the past week and the spring rains have begun to awaken in the amateur gardener the usual spring thoughts of a garden and the fine crops he expects to harvest in the fall. Along with this awakening of the "gardening fever" comes a demand at the public library for books on gardening.

One man went so far as to inquire at the library if there were publications dealing with methods of keeping the neighbor's chickens out of his garden, it was said.

To aid the amateur gardener, the library has prepared a list of books that are of especial interest to those intending to spend their evenings hoeing, spading and raking.

The list follows:

- Gardening
Bailey, L. H.—Standard Encyclopedia of Horticulture, 6 vols.
Flower Gardens
Bailey, L. H.—Garden Making.
Bailey, L. H. & Others—How to Make a Flower Garden.

WOMEN WIN CONTROL OF VILLAGE ON LAW AND ORDER TICKET

Riverton, Ill.—(AP)—The village of Riverton has entered upon an era of feminine roles, women, elected two weeks ago on a law and order ticket, having assumed the majority control of its affairs.

The dignity and entire absence of disorder characterizing these former industries in the office Monday night were in marked contrast to the uproar and confusion that ensued election night when the supporters of the "old order" realized too late how completely they had underrated the strength of their opponent's quiet campaign.

Four of the six women constitute a majority of the village board of trustees.

ONLY NECESSARY SIGNS ALLOWED ON PUBLIC ROADS

Coyp of Regulations Regarding Signs Received by Brusewitz

Copies of eight regulations regarding the erection of signs on public highways, passed by the Wisconsin State Highway commission in April, have been received at the office of A. G. Brusewitz, county highway commissioner.

Erection of signs on public highways, except such as are necessary for guidance or travel, is prohibited. The words "stop," "beware," or others commonly used to warn travelers, may be used on signs only by public officers who have jurisdiction over the highway on which the signs are to be erected.

Not more than three signs may be erected to guide travelers to any summer or winter resort, hotel, place of public entertainment or instruction, or place of public worship removed from the highway, according to the regulations.

Any department of the state may erect signs necessary to warn the traveling public against violations of state laws or regulations by the state department.

Persons having charge of county institutions or scientific experiments in agriculture, etc., removed from any public highway, may erect no more than three signs to guide travelers.

No sign with an area greater than 25 square feet may be erected on any public highway, the new regulations state. All signs must be erected as close to the outer limits of the highway as is practicable, and all signs having any dimension greater than two feet must be set parallel to the direction of the highway. If any sign is erected where the highway is on a curve, the sign must be placed on the outer side of the curve.

One of the three signs permitted to be erected by summer or winter resorts, places of instruction or worship or to indicate scientific experiments, etc., must be erected at the place where travel leaves the highway to pass to the place in question, and not more than one other sign is permitted within the limits of the highway, not more than one fourth mile in each direction from the first sign.

No signs within the limits of any public highway, except the signs erected by or under the supervision of state departments may use any combination of black letters or figures on a white or yellow background the regulations state.

All signs erected within the limits of a state-trunk highway must be so located as to meet the approval of the state highway engineer or his authorized representative, and the signs erected on other highways shall be so erected as to meet the approval of public officers in charge of the maintenance of such highway, according to the regulations.

CITIES ENTER SAFETY PERIOD

Appleton Included in Cities Participating in Statewide Campaign

Madison — Saturday marked the beginning of the no-accident campaign in nearly every city in the state, Appleton being among those taking part.

About 300 industrial plants employing 125,000 hands, will participate in this concerted effort to prevent suffering, expense and lost time resulting from accidents to workers. A series of posters, asking workmen to cooperate in the prevention of accidents, and pointing out means of preventing accidents, will be conspicuously posted on department bulletin boards in factories.

At the end of the campaign, which will continue for 60 days, every foreman in whose department there is a decrease in lost time-accidents will receive an engraved certificate of award from the Wisconsin Manufacturers' Association.

Wisconsin employers, through the instrumentality of their state organization, the Wisconsin Manufacturers' Association, are interested in reducing accident occurrences in their factories and have chosen this plan as the first step in that direction.

Mrs. Clarence Perry of Kaukauna and Miss Marie Tillman of Appleton will leave Thursday for Milwaukee where they will spend the weekend.

Spent Fortune In Search

"I spent $1,800 in 7 years treating with physicians, some specialists costing me $10 a visit, only to at last say that nothing could be done for me, that I had cancer or ulcers of the stomach. I suffered awful pains in my stomach, but after taking a few doses of MAYR'S these all disappeared and for 3 years am feeling fine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. All druggists.

Two Mothers Identify Picture As Their Baby

IT'S a wise mother who can identify her own baby. You've all read this axiom, and doubt thought it was a lot of bunk, but it's true. It was proved in the office of The Appleton Post-Crescent Tuesday when two mothers positively identified a picture appearing in Monday's paper as their baby. And both were so positive that both were paid the prizes of $2 and a pair of tickets to Fischer's Appleton theatre were "That's My Baby." will be shown from May 10 to 12.

Early Tuesday Mrs. R. J. Treiber, 805 S. Mason-st., brought in her young hopeful and positively identified one of the pictures as her son Buddy. And he was a dead ringer for the picture. The little fellow said he remembered when "he man took his picture" and the mother was giving the cash and tickets. Not long after Mrs. Ira Kimball brought her son Junior to the office and she also identified the picture as her baby. And he too was a dead ringer. She was as positive as Mrs. Treiber that the picture in the paper was her son and so she collected the prizes. If that doesn't prove that it takes a wise mother to recognize her own child we don't know what will prove it. Another picture printed Monday was identified by Mrs. Louis Dedecker, 129 N. Bennett-st., as her son Ralph. One of the pictures printed Tuesday was identified by Mrs. E. L. Small, 308 W. Prospect-ave., as her daughter Barbara.

No one has called at the Post-Crescent to collect the rewards for identifying the other pictures. Remember there is no red tape connected with this stunt. All that is necessary is to say "That's My Baby" as you identify the picture as your offspring. Take your baby with you so that the identification can be made sure.

Three more pictures are printed today and three will be printed each day this week. A photographer is on the streets almost every sunny hour snapping pictures of youngsters. Three are chosen each day for publication. The theatre tickets which constitute a major portion of the prize are for Douglas MacLean's picture, "That's My Baby," at Fischer's Appleton Theatre from May 10 to 12.

BOOKS FOR RURAL LIBRARIES HERE

Location of Libraries Will Be Announced Within Few Weeks

Books for the first two rural libraries of Outagamie-co have arrived at Appleton public library and are being cataloged and boxed, according to Miss Florence Day, librarian. As yet no location has been picked for the two libraries and one will be chosen according to Miss Day, until a survey has been made and the best places selected.

The first shipment of books numbers about 90, and more books will be ordered. Outagamie is one of 20 counties engaged in rural library work.

An appropriation of $200 was voted by the Appleton library for this work by the county board. The appropriation was unsolicited.

In a recent county library conference at Madison, attended by Miss Day, several practical means of circulating books through rural territory were brought out. Country stores function as rural libraries in some counties. Teachers are another medium for distribution of county library books. County superintendent of schools, the county nurse, the county agricultural agent and the federation of women's clubs are other agencies used in some counties for the distribution of books to rural people.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schreiber of Kell spent Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Kloehn, 809 E. Hancock-st.

ROTARIANS HEAR OF VALUE OF MILK

Mrs. Nellie Kedzie Jones Addresses Club at Weekly Meeting

"The food value of milk, especially for children, cannot be emphasized enough," said Mrs. Nellie Kedzie Jones in a talk before the Rotary club at its weekly luncheon at Hotel Northern Tuesday noon. "and for this reason we are conducting 'Milk Week' in Outagamie-co." Mrs. Jones is a representative of the college of agriculture, University of Wisconsin. Mrs. Jones also gave statistics showing the need of a concentrated effort to induce people to use more milk in this county. School superintendents throughout the county and the county agent also are helping in conducting milk week. A drive of this kind already has been held in 20 Wisconsin counties and will be held in as many more, according to Mrs. Jones.

Forty Hours devotion services will begin at St. Mary church Sunday continue through Tuesday and end with a solemn procession and benediction at 7:30 Tuesday evening. Sermons will be given at special services Sunday, Monday and Tuesday evenings by outside speakers.

Several grade school children entertained with a one act playlet. Two recitations were given by children from the same school.

Dr. H. E. Peabody gave a three minute talk on the coming district convention for Rotarians at Green Bay May 18 and 19. Dr. H. K. Pratt was in charge of the meeting.

SEVEN COMPETE FOR HYDE MEDAL

Contest Will Be Closing Event of Annual Parents Visiting Day

Seven speakers will compete for the gold medal offered by F. C. Hyde, local jeweler, in the annual Hyde extemporaneous speaking contest Wednesday evening in Appleton high school. The speakers are John Catlin, Mark Catlin, Jr., Carl Nelson, Abram Cohen, Glenn Opperman, Edward Blessman and Robert Wolf. The contest will be the closing event of the annual parents visiting day at the school.

The winner of the speaking tilt will represent Appleton high school in the Fox River Valley Forensic League extemporaneous contest Friday at Oshkosh. The local contest is the oldest of any forensic events staged annually at Appleton high school and has been sponsored for many years by Mr. Hyde. The speakers were chosen after two preliminary speaking tilts held three weeks ago at the school. Dr. H. E. Peabody and Prof. A. A. Trever have been chosen as two of the judges and a third is still to be selected. The contestants have been coached by Miss Ruth McKean, head of the high school public speaking department.

BACH ELECTED

AS MEMBER OF

SCHOOL BOARD

Merchant Succeeds Ben Plowright, Who Resigned from Office

Menasha — P. J. Bach, drygoods merchant, was elected a member of the school board at the monthly meeting of the common council Tuesday night to succeed Ben Plowright, resigned. Alderman John Remmel and Gust Fahrenkrug, who were appointed by Mayor N. G. Remmel to see if Mr. Plowright could not be induced to reconsider his resignation, reported they were unsuccessful. Mr. Bach was elected on the first formal ballot by a vote of five to four, the four being scattering.

Round's woods on highway 15 on the outskirts of the city, which was several months ago, has just been platted by the new owners, J. L. Wolf and A. Ritger, and was offered to the city Thursday night for adoption. The adoption was temporarily delayed, however, until easements can be secured for a 60 foot street along the west side. The plat contains 10 lots. The adoption of the cemetery committee relative to the building of a fence around a portion of Oak Hill cemetery, the employment of a caretaker and the making of general improvements was adopted. The city attorney was instructed to notify the Soo Railway Line and Miller Paper Stock company to clean up the site of the warehouse which belongs to the former.

Mayor Remmel announced that the total cost of the new police station was $14,155. In his annual report some time ago he said the cost of the new building was approximately $12,000 which did not include certain expenditures made later.

H. E. Landgraf and Mr. Riley, the latter field representative of the Land of Lakes, addressed the council relative to an appropriation of $400 to cover Menasha's portion of the cost of advertising the city in its printed circulars to be distributed among tourists and others. It was planned to draw on the recreation fund for the amount. The city attorney advised the council that this procedure would be illegal without first getting the consent of the recreation board and park commission. The council decided to hold an adjourned meeting Wednesday night to which the recreation board and park commission will be invited.

According to the monthly financial statement read by the city clerk, Menasha has a treasurer's balance on hand of $276,890.36. The balances of the city funds on April 30 were: General fund, $75,558.85; water and light, $45,224.15; board of education, $112,680.75; industrial fund, $5,082.19; library, $25,041.72; firemen pension, $6,698.17; cemetery fund, $2,216.29; recreation fund, $3,438.41.

A petition for a new sidewalk on the south side of Milwaukee-st was referred to the street committee. R. C. Thiekens notified the council of damage done by water to his bushes and shrubbery, the exact amount of which he is unable to state at this time. The matter was referred to the city attorney and street committee. Bruno Kileshok was reappointed motorcycle officer at a salary of $130 per month, the same as last year.

The street committee recommended the building of new sidewalks on certain portions of Milwaukee-st, High, Kaukauna, Manitowoc, and Plank-rd. The recommendations were referred to the committee of the whole. The bonds of the superintendent of streets, superintendent of poor and city clerk were accepted and placed on file.

Mayor N. G. Remmel, City Attorney H. Ritzgibbon, City Clerk J. P. DeCaro and J. H. Kuester, superintendent of water and light, were selected to represent the city at the annual meeting of the League of Municipalities. A communication from Ford McGreggor, secretary of the league, was read stating the convention was to be held June 16, 17 and 18 at LaCrosse, and advising the city to be represented as several important matters were to be considered.

Mayor Remmel said he had received a communication from the recreation and park board relative to the baseball park. He said a portion of the fence that surrounds the park was blown by the recent wind storm and he deemed it advisable to have it replaced at once as the industrial league composed of eight teams was about to open its season.

The city clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for the new sidewalks ordered, the bids to be returnable at the midmonthly meeting Tuesday, May 18. Mayor Remmel called attention to the Holy Name rally to be held in Menasha Sunday, May 23. He said it would bring 10,000 visitors to the city and that it would be necessary for the city officials and citizens generally to do everything in their power to make it pleasant for them.

POWERS ELECTED

BOWLING LEADER

Association Decides to Open Next Season on September 7

Neenah — John W. Powers was elected president of the Neenah bowling association at a meeting held Tuesday evening at the Neenah bowling alley. Other officers elected were: Phillip Nash, vice president; A. Henning, secretary; and Harry W. Peck, treasurer. Arthur Draheim was elected chairman of a committee on schedules and revision of bylaws, with A. Henning, W. K. Austin, Arthur Larson and Joseph Reisenstein as other members of the committee.

It was decided to open the bowling season on Sept. 7 this year, somewhat earlier than usual, to enable the teams to complete the tournament earlier. Tuesday nights were set aside as bowling nights. A meeting is to be called by the chair some time in August for the purpose of making all arrangements for the bowling season.

SCHOOL PICKS DATES

FOR CLASS PICNICS

Neenah — Three days, May 15 and June 4 and 5, have been set aside by school heads here for picnic days. Any high school class or society can conduct an outing on these dates, between the hours of 3 o'clock and 10:30 in the evening. The order further states that no automobile will be permissible.

MOVE DOTY CABIN AS

FAR AS PARK ENTRANCE

Neenah — The Doty cabin, which is to be placed in a permanent location in Doty Island park where it will be preserved as a historic relic, has been moved to the entrance of the park. The next step will be to place it in its permanent location. The task of moving this log cabin, which was the home of the first governor of Wisconsin, from its original location on the John Strange property to the new park, a distance of several blocks, has been the easy one as there was no foundation under the building to raise the crumbling logs in order to place jacks beneath. With much care little if any of its original material has been lost thus far. It will be placed on the historic spot almost opposite the place where the old council tree under which Indians held their meetings stood. The new Doty Island park is Neenah's latest addition to its playgrounds and is on that part of the island directly across the Fox river from Riverside park.

NEENAH SOCIETY

Neenah — Mrs. Bertha Payne, formerly of Neenah, and Charles Osmundson of Albert Lea, Minn., were married in February in St. Paul, Minn., according to announcements received by relatives here. Following the marriage Mr. and Mrs. Osmundson went to Albert Lea where they are making their home. The husband is engaged in the carpenter business in that city.

Miss Laura Fahrenkrug entertained a party of young people Tuesday evening at her home on Lake-st. The evening was spent with games and dancing.

The marriage of Miss Anna Helen Lenz and Arthur W. Stafford will occur Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lenz. The ceremony will be performed in the presence of the families.

Victory card club was entertained Tuesday evening by Mrs. Theodore Sures at her home in Menasha. The evening was spent in playing schafkopf. Prizes were won by Mrs. Grace Pankratz, Mrs. Oelfke, Mrs. Henry Stecker and Mrs. Kate Sures.

Miss Ruth Larson will entertain the S. M. S. club of young ladies Wednesday evening at her home on E. Doty avenue.

Mrs. C. W. Sawyer entertained the A. C. E. card club Tuesday evening at her home on High-st. The time was spent in playing bridge, in which prizes were won by Mrs. George Pierce, Mrs. R. W. Hafstrom, and Mrs. Harry Bullard.

The D. M. C. card club was entertained Monday evening by Arthur Kuester, High-st. The evening was spent in playing schafkopf. Prizes were won by Albert Koepsel and Mads Hanson.

Twin City Melody Boys will furnish music for a dancing party Friday evening to be given by Federal Reserve association at Danish Brotherhood hall. The dance will follow a regular meeting of the association.

KIWANIANS ATTEND

MEETING AT OSHKOSH

Neenah — A delegation of Neenah Kiwanis club, went to Oshkosh on Tuesday evening where they attended an interclub meeting given by the club of that city. A supper was served at Elk club after which the meeting was held.

What Is Meant by Properly Executing a Will?

The State Laws applying to wills and their execution differ widely. Generally speaking, a will to be properly executed must be signed by the maker and his signature must be affixed in the presence of witnesses who must sign as witnesses in the presence of the maker and each other. In some states three or more witnesses are necessary.

Failure to comply with the requirements of the law or improperly executing a will has often defeated the intentions of many men who expected to provide for the future of their families.

In order to comply with the law and to avoid possible trouble for your heirs and your executor you should have your will drawn by a lawyer and execute it under his guidance.

THE YELLOW STUB

By Ernest Lynn

BEGIN HERE TODAY

HENRY RAND, 35, a business man, is found murdered in a cheap hotel in Grafton. Police find a woman's handkerchief and the stub of a yellow theater ticket.

JANET RAND, his daughter, breaks her engagement with BARRY COLVIN because of the "disgrace." JIMMY RAND, his son, goes to Milwaukee, where the theater is. The stub is traced to OLGA MAYNARD, a cabaret singer.

Jimmy meets and falls in love with MARY LOWELL. Later he encounters Olga. She faints at hearing police want her for murder. Mary, out with SAMUEL CHURCH, a wealthy lawyer, sees Jimmy lift Olga into a taxi and misunderstands.

Olga tells police the stub might have come into possession of a man who "picked her up" two nights before the murder. Jimmy receives mysterious warnings to leave Milwaukee and later is attacked by two men but escapes.

With Jimmy and Mary estranged, Church gets Mary's promise to marry him. Jimmy accuses her of marrying for money.

Jimmy and Olga, out one night, see a man they both recognize—she as the man who got the stub, he as one of his assailants. The man escapes, but they identify him by his police picture as IRE JENSEN.

Church, motoring with Mary, runs over a dog. His heartlessness causes her to break their engagement.

Olga tells Jimmy that Church, because she had refused to have anything to do with him, had caused her to lose several jobs. Jimmy realizes Olga is in love with him and is deeply troubled. She offers her lips and he kisses her.

Mary writes Jimmy a letter, explaining that she had broken with Church. The office boy sticks the letter in his pocket and forgets it. That evening Barry tells Jimmy he met a snarling lawyer that day, "His name," said Barry, "was Church."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"Good Lord!" Jimmy exclaimed at the mention of Church's name. "Everywhere I go I hear nothing but Church—Sam Church."

Barry regarded him in bewilderment. "Why what's wrong with you?"

"Oh go ahead Barry. Don't mind me. You said you met him today? How come?" Exclaimed Jimmy.

"Well I'm representing a client with a big damage claim against the Z and R Railroad. I've got a good case, too. This fellow Church is the attorney for the railroad. It seems he defends all, or nearly all, of their damage suits."

"I met him today, and he had a proposition for settling out of court, but it wasn't big enough money for me and I told him so. I'd rather take a chance on fighting him, but as I saw he's a smart baby and he told me today how he could throw a lot of obstacles in my way and even keep delaying the case until we get ready to throw up the sponge."

"Watch him," cautioned Jimmy. "You heard he was a jury flier."

"What? A big lawyer like him? Why he's known all over the state."

"I'll tell you a few things about Sam Church, Barry. Listen."

"Can you imagine a skunk low enough to persecute a girl the way he did Olga Maynard?" Jimmy finished.

"Well why doesn't somebody get after him? Why doesn't she tell that story to the police?"

"You make me laugh Barry. Who'd believe her? And how could she prove anything. My boy, Sam Church makes his money out of a lot of loud talking for him."

"How do you know that Miss Maynard was telling you the truth?"

fallen for Olga Maynard. No. Perhaps I'd be better off if I had. I fell for Mary Lowell, and I fell hard. And now she's going to marry Sam Church."

"Well," commented Barry bluntly, "the young lady seems to know what she's doing. I heard, Sam, that you got the heavy dough, I hear."

"You wouldn't say that, Barry, if you know her."

And then he told Barry the whole story, beginning with his first meeting with Mary.

"And so you see, Barry, Olga in a way is the innocent cause of the whole mixup."

"Well, why don't you go to Mary and explain the whole thing?"

"Not now, Barry. It's too late."

"Why, you darn fool, are you going to sit back and see her marry this mucher Church, and not do a thing about it?"

"Barry, you fool, you don't understand. I can't go to her, crawling, and tell her where she's making a mistake. What kind of a position does that put me in?"

"Well, if you don't speak up for the things you want in this world, you don't get them. You're mooning about the fact it's the thing that's out of reach that we want most. Go on and grab it. If you don't I'll go to her myself and spill the whole story. Suppose I had curled up and quit when Janet broke off with me. It's your darn stubbornness. You're even more stubborn than—than Janet."

"And, by the way, I might as well tell you now that you're the only thing that's standing between me and Janet right now."

"Why, what do you mean, Barry? I don't understand."

"Just this. She compromised with me. She's so worried about you and wants you to come home so badly that she agreed to marry me if I could persuade you to come back with me. Of course, I wouldn't do it—I wouldn't take advantage of her under the circumstances. I'll wait until she's ready. But I still think you might listen to reason and pull out before someone bumps you off."

"Janet still insists on working in that orchestra, and I've insisted on taking her home every night, especially since the night some fresh cake-eater tried to pick her up."

"Good night, Barry! You—"

"I know, it doesn't sound very nice, does it? But it's true. One of the men in the orchestra is acting as an escort while I'm away, and she doesn't like it—thinks she's putting herself under obligations."

"And another thing. I didn't mean to worry you with this, but I'm going to tell you while I'm about it. Janet got one of those letters, too. It was meant for her. Told her she needn't think she wasn't being watched."

"Barry, you're lying."

"I'm telling you the truth. You're not only risking your own neck by" staying on here, but you're bringing all this on Janet and your mother."

"Barry, the whole thing's so unbelievable. It sounds like some medieval poison plot. That sort of thing doesn't happen in the twentieth century. It's—it's ghastly. For the love of heaven, tell me why anyone should be so anxious for me to leave Milwaukee as to go to the extent of exterminating me and my family."

"They wanted your father out of the way, and they killed him."

"Yes, and Dad was in Grafton; he wasn't here. If they want me badly enough, they won't stop when I go home."

"Yes, they would. They simply think that with you here they're in danger of being found."

"Well, I'm sticking, Barry. I'm sorry. He raised his hands and let them fall again to his side. "Until I see it through."

"Well maybe I can see your side of it, Jim." Barry laid his hand on the other's shoulder. "But," he declared through compressed lips, "if anyone tried to harm Janet, I'd kill him."

"I know you would, bless your old heart. I said once before, and I repeat it now. If it's the last thing"

LITTLE JOE

ANY HOUSE AT ALL IS THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT

I do on this earth. I'm going to kill the man who murdered my father."

The fog that hung low over Milwaukee streets when they went in the theater had lifted by the time the performance was over, and they walked out into a clear and starlit night.

In the midst of a discussion that centered about two love-sick young fools they heard sharp cries some distance up the street. Promenaders turned their heads inquiringly and then hastened toward the swiftly gathering crowd.

"Come on, Jim," Barry grabbed his arm. "Maybe it's a fight. Maybe someone's getting punched."

It was a fight. Standing on tip-toe on the outer fringe of the crowd they could see two struggling figures locked in a desperate clutch as they scuffled near the curb. They fought silently, with grim intensity, wholly oblivious of the crowd that hemmed them in.

Then suddenly there was a parting of the two forms and a sudden darting in of one of them, a swift feat and then the sickening sound of the impact of fist on jaw. One of the figures dropped—dropped like a log, his head striking the curb with a resounding smack. He lay still.

"Did you see that?"

"Good Lord, what a sock!"

"He's killed him!"

The mutterings of an idle, curious crowd. . . . Then there was a quick movement, a swift shuffling of feet and bodies tensely straining.

Someone in the crowd set up the cry: "Stop him! Stop him! There he goes!"

Good Work Wins

The following statement appeared in an article in the Republican of Galena, Kansas, for March 26, 1926:

"The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is the greatest commercial organization in the United States and its efforts and business penetrate the known world. Its policy toward employees may well be used as the criterion for all business. It is the most liberal that has been established. Every employee has that golden opportunity to prove his worth and his reward is in his own grasp."

It is natural that this policy should meet the approval of all true Americans for it is essentially democratic in character. But such unsolicited praise is very gratifying to the management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) believes in Fairness, Justice and Equity, and it believes in giving all its employees equal chances to make good.

In the huge organization of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) every employee, no matter what his task, is recognized as an individual, with rights equal to those of any other man.

Good work, honest effort, and ability are quickly observed and appreciated. Promotions reward the deserving, and many of the executives of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) today first entered the Company in a humble capacity.

Success in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) does not lean upon superficial props. It is built upon a solid base of actual worth. Golden opportunities for advancement are not shaken like apples from a tree, but earned by steady climbing on the ladder of earnest work.

This democratic policy has resulted in an organization of loyal, interested men and women who work with enthusiasm, knowing that every effort is appreciated.

The close cooperation of its employees makes possible, to a large degree, the comprehensive service the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is able to render the thirty million people of the Middle West.

Every man in the organization is not only interested in his task, but anxious to do it better—and you sense this enthusiasm at every Standard Oil Company (Indiana) Service Station.

It is this wonderful spirit prevailing throughout the organization that has made it possible for the Company to take its place among the foremost Service organizations of America.

LETTER FROM MRS. MARY ALDEN TO LESLIE PRESCOTT

Although you did not see fit to answer my letter, in which I tried to tell you that you were neglecting your duty as a wife and mother, I think I should write you again.

Surely no woman can be so oblivious to the natural propensities of man—even the best of them—as to go away and leave her husband and then let her house be overrun day and night by one of the most beautiful and famous movie actresses of the day and a most radical young woman whom I always have disapproved of as my son's secretary.

Paula Perier and Sally Atherton are in your home daily, and up to this time Miss Perier has neglected to ask for me and I would not have seen Mrs. Atherton if I had not intercepted her in the hall, and then she insulted me.

I think at the time you recommended a young woman instead of a young man for John's secretary, I said you would fly into the face of Providence, and you are certainly slapping Providence in the face now by going off to Buffalo, because forsooth you think it your duty to your friend Ruth Burke to stay with her because her husband has met with an accident and she is going to have a baby.

This to me is perfectly silly. One of the silliest ideas of this silly age where everything is put before a woman's duty to her husband and children.

Countless babies have been born since Eve became a mother and countless fathers have been the victims of accidents during those times. Life has gone on. Fathers have died and even killed other men during their wives' pregnancies and still life has gone on and children have been born.

As I told you and have told you ever since you married my son, your place is by his side. I think I have been correct in my duty by only saying this to you but I really thought that you would have some respect for my experience and that I would be saved the humiliation of giving you the reason for my opinion.

John is the replica of his father and my husband could never resist a pretty face. Of course there is some of my own stammina and principle in John, but even at that I would not place temptation in his way as you have done. I would, if possible, keep the temptation of another woman from my husband all ways.

Adventures Of The Twins

THE QUEEN BEE PAYS HER RENT

The next place that Mister Tingaling and the Twins went to collect rent was at the bee-hive.

So they went tap, tap, tap on the front door of the big round hive. "May I see the Queen?" asked Mister Tingaling as one of the bees came to let him in.

"Certainly," said the bee, stepping aside to let the three tiny people pass.

"Here, Queen, here are some people to see you," said the bee.

"How do you do," said the Queen Bee. "Are you workers or drones? I have no use for drones. They're lazy useless people and we put them out."

rent book, so I suppose you must owe it to us. I'm terribly sorry. I certainly apologize."

"Oh, no! Don't bother," said the Queen Bee. "We shall get around it some way. Let me think! Oh, I have it! Instead of money I shall give you honey. That sounds almost the same. Besides, queens may give presents if they wish. It sounds far better than paying rent."

"That's true, your Highness," said Mister Tingaling. "I think it's a fine idea. What do you think, children? Shall we take honey for the rent?"

"I think it's a very good idea myself," said Nancy.

"And I'm sure my wife would think it a good idea, too," said Mister Tingaling. "Yes, your Royal Highness. I shall be very much obliged if you would pay your rent in honey. I mean, if you would make me a present of honey."

So the Queen Bee called her workers and said, "Get one of the honey-comb boxes out of the pantry and give it to my friends."

"Yes, your Majesty," said the bees bumping their heads on the ground and going away to the pantry to get the honey.

"How can we carry it?" said Nick suddenly.

"Oh, that's easy," said Nancy. "We'll have our magic shoes make us big again as soon as we get outside."

But Mister Tingaling looked offended.

"I don't like great big people," he said. "I like you little like I am. Please don't grow big."

"Oh, well then, all right," said Nick. "But how can we carry a whole combful of honey to your house, Mister Tingaling?"

"I know," said Nancy. "We'll put it on wheels and roll it along."

"Why certainly!" said the Queen Bee. "Little girl, you'll be queen of something or other yourself some day. See if you're not."

"Thank you," said Nancy. "I'm head of the class, and that's almost as good."

"Every bit," declared the Queen Bee. "Now then, I know where there are four empty spoons. They are right under the window of Mrs. Greenwood's room in the garden. They were on the window sill and fell out. I saw them there yesterday. They'll do for wheels."

Soon the honeycomb was on wheels and the fairyman and the Twins were rolling it carefully along to the fairyman's house.

2,021 REACTORS FOUND IN 64,103 COWS IN COUNTY

Only About a Dozen Herds in Ellington Remain to Be Tested

Except for 13 or 14 herds in the town of Ellington, all tuberculin test work in Outagamie county has been completed. Dr. B. H. Borman, head of the testing staff, announced this week. Altogether, 64,103 head of cattle were tested in 3,625 herds in the county area work. Among these, 2,021 reactors, including 941 purebreds and 1,722 grade cattle, were found in 949 infected herds. Herds in which the reactors were found included 20,604 head.

Outagamie county ranks about average in the proportionate number of reactors found in the test, according to Dr. Borman. Of the total number of cattle injected, 31.5 per cent reacted to the test with traces of tuberculosis.

During the week ended last Saturday, 2,869 cattle were tested in 192 herds. Reactors totaled 112 in 52 infected herds which contained a total of 1,229 head of cattle. Among the reactors found last week, 101 were grades, and 8 were purebreds.

As the chief result of the area test work, Outagamie county farmers and dairymen are assured a market for milk and other dairy products in all parts of the country, and especially in those cities like Chicago, which have passed ordinances prohibiting the sale of milk from any but tuberculin tested cows.

For nearly two weeks in March the testers had been inactive because funds for paying indemnity on slaughtered cattle had been exhausted. Guarantees, followed by the appropriation of the special session of legislature, made it possible to continue the work however.

Nine veterinarians constituted the testing staff in Outagamie county. Most of them will do retest work in Wauzeka county. Dr. Borman expects to be in his Appleton office at the court house at intervals, for the next two weeks.

LESS BUILDING IN APRIL THIS YEAR

Late Spring Blamed for Decrease in New Building Activity

Building activity in April, 1926, was much more pronounced than for the same month this year, the records of the building inspector indicate. Weather was chiefly responsible for the difference, in the opinion of the building inspector. Spring was more advanced at this time last year than it is now, and construction work was in full swing.

Permits for 72 new buildings estimated to cost $283,345 and 45 alterations estimated to cost $24,030 were issued in April of last year. The total estimated cost of the 117 projects was $307,375.

Last month permits were issued for 56 new buildings at an estimated cost of $89,575 and 31 alterations at an estimated cost of $21,565, totaling 88 permits at an estimated cost of $110,140.

They Ride on OIL!

FOUR simple little one-syllable words—"they ride on oil"—aptly and vividly explain why Chandler and Cleveland motor cars are both noted for:

- MORE than average POWER.
- SMOOTHER than average RIDING.
- MORE than average DURABILITY.
- LOWER than average UPKEEP.
- LESS than average DEPRECIATION.

To protect quality and augment the benefits of exacting engineering, Chandler and Cleveland have both adopted an advanced method of high-pressure motor lubrication. Oil is continuously pumped to all bearings under full pressure. And the pump in each case is self-priming—which means that it will pump to the last drop of oil in the crankcase!

Chandler and Cleveland both have, moreover, the famous "ONE SHOT" SYSTEM of centralized chassis lubrication. You simply press a plunger with your heel—and "One Shot" automatically lubricates the entire chassis. Gone is all uncertainty, all cause for worry. Nothing is left to memory or to chance. Even a patented type of spring shackle is used having an automatic take-up that keeps the springs of both cars properly buoyant and noiseless.

In every detail, right down to every bolt and cotterpin, these cars are built to stand up—time on end—so long as you keep gasoline in the tank, water in the radiator and oil in the crankcase. Take a good look at the new models. Try a ride. Compare!

M'CONNELL LOST TO 1926 LAWRENCE TRACK SQUAD

Blues Hopes For State Title Blasted By Loss Of Crack Jump Mainstay

Torn Ligament Stops Sure Point Winner in Four Jump Events For Rest of Year

Hopes for at least one clear state championship this year for Lawrence college were blasted with a vengeance Monday afternoon when Old Man Jinx, who has camped on the trail of Blue athletic teams the entire year, took another healthy wallop at the local college. The blow fell when Palmer Mac McConnell, a junior, and counted on to take first in at least two events and possibly four in the state meet here late this month, tore a ligament in his right ankle while making a vault. Mac suffered the injury when his foot struck a rough piece of ground while making a vault. He will be out for the remainder of the season.

As direct contrast to 1925 when the Blues won three straight titles on the grid, court and cinders the Donnysmen have been unable to cop even one clear title this year all through the work of the jinx. Both the grid and cage squads were battered by the jinx while started on what appeared to be more sure conquests. Serious injuries and meltdowns knocking off star players right and left, wrecking well-built teams, and making them take fair showings for the season. It was hoped to repeat the 1925 track championship because of the fine work of the team to date. Mac was the mainstay for the remainder of the season, but again the old Blue trouble maker stepped in and wrecked a fine squad.

Lawrence capped the state meet by a thrilling finish at Ripon last year and had hoped to repeat here because of the early season showing and the entrance of a fourth team. Beloit to split the points more. The Blues chances were cut about in half by the loss of Mac, who was Denny's anchor man in the jumps. Last Saturday against Oshkosh Normal, Mac scored 17 points with two firsts and two ties for first in four events. He probably would have scored 20 with four firsts in four tries but for the fact that in two events he was tied with mates and it was not necessary to jump them off. His first place came in the high jump broad jump pole vault and high hurdles. The latter event was his first.

Mac's career Saturday and made a remarkable showing and fast time without one previous practice. In the state meet it was hoped that he would win the high jump pole vault and possibly the broad jump, as well as placing in the hurdles and the broad jump, if he did not take this event. McConnell made himself well-known in 1924 while but a freshman when he tied for a first place in the pole vault in the dual meet with Ripon, tying the Lawrence record in the event in doing so. As a sophomore last spring he started right out to win his event, taking first in the pole vault, high jump and broad jump in the meet with Oshkosh Normal. Against Stevens Point Normal he tied a teammate, Stur in the high jump, took first in the broad jump, and second to Nason, a teammate in the pole vault.

In the state meet at Ripon he tied Dugan, lanky Carroll jumper, for first in the high jump and took second in the broad jump. He and Dugan tied for high jump honors at 5 feet 9 inches, setting a new state record in the event. Beside being a state record holder in the jump the run gave Mac the honor of being school record holder with his 5 feet 9 inches. The Blue star also holds a second Lawrence record which may stand for a few years. That is in the pole vault where he crossed the bar at 11 feet 1 inch.

Mac's greatest achievement last year was that of tying for second place in the high jump at the Midwest conference meet at St. Paul. Competing against the greatest track athletes in midwestern collegiate circles representing eight colleges in Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, and Minnesota, Mac tied (Christopherson of Ripon, now Oshkosh high coach) for the honor. Christy also has been a candidate for the Olympic team and was a senior at the time while Mac was a soph.

He tried the hurdles with great success for the first time this season.

BLUE NET SQUAD BATTLES MILTON

Weakened Southerners in Good Form for First Intercollegiate Match at Milton

Coach Herb Mundhenke's Lawrence college netters will play their first regular match of the season Monday when they invade Milton. The Blues beat the Appletons 1-0 in a practice match Saturday, but outside of that have not had much practice because of the frequent rain. Milton's hopes have been in constant practice the last three weeks for the meet.

Because three men were lost from last year's varsity, Milton's chances are not bright in this first match, but the men hope to round into better shape before the state meet at Lawrence on May 18 and 19. The Milton schedule also includes another encounter with Lawrence on May 26, at Appleton and two matches with Marquette university.

Capt. W. H. Glover, K. B. Westby, R. M. Burdick, and either C. Benfeng or D. T. Sullivan will face the Lawrence quartet at Milton. Lawrence's probable lineup will include Lunde, Hendeman, Johnson and possibly Hanke.

SONS OF OLD SOX STARS PLAY WITH NOTRE DAME TEAM

Famous Sullivan-Walsh Combination Relives in Work of Boys at South Bend

South Bend, Ind.—Their fame has waned except in memory because it is more than 10 years ago that the famous batter of Walsh and Sullivan made baseball history.

Fans harkening back to that day will tell you that there was never quite a pitcher like "Big Ed" Walsh nor a catcher like his inseparable teammate Billy Sullivan.

The two were stars with the pennant-winning Chicago White Sox. Then came the war and the boys of the chivalrous traditions of the game in play and life they were united.

On the diamond and off where one went so did the other. Their families visited back and forth. Their wives became close friends. Their playtime intertwined with their lifetimes.

And now their sons on the Notre Dame team here the two are again reliving vicariously the old close companionship of team and baseball career.

The fathers are out of the game as far as actual playing goes. Sullivan is in the orchard business up in Oregon.

Walsh divides his time between scouting for the White Sox and coaching at odd moments the Notre Dame team, on which his son and the son of his old pal are now playing.

Both boys are in their sophomore years at school. They are taking a general arts course and majoring in journalism.

Ed Walsh Jr. is 21 and a pitcher on the college team just like his dad. He uses all of his dad's old tricks. Has the same sort of deliberate delivery. And recently struck out 14 men in a game with another school.

Sullivan's boy, John, is 19. He doesn't play behind the plate but is the team's second baseman.

The catcher's berth may be given to him before long, however and in that event the old lineup of fathers, as revived by their sons will be preserved.

Coach George E. Keegan says that both boys are the baseball reincarnations of their fathers.

They are excellent students too. School records show. And their batting averages are splendid.

Chums and playmates just like their dads the youngsters are continuing the older combination of parents born years ago.

Neither of their fathers were college men but gave this chance for education denied them to their boys.

The frequently visit the school together. And as they have stood on the field to watch this new Sullivan-Walsh combination in action the two oldsters have exchanged smiles fraught with proud meaning.

"If I can be just half as good a man as my dad I'll be mighty glad," says young Walsh.

"And if I can be just half as good as mine and ever learn to play ball half as well I'll be tickled to pieces," says Sullivan's son.

Plans since childhood the two are planning to go through life together. Their youthful ambitions now plan a business in which both can share. Neither has his mind fixed on a professional baseball career. "You can't plan that," they say.

While the catching family doesn't seem to have been transmitted so distinctly in Sullivan's family and the Walsh pitching abilities have it is a strange thing to note that Sullivan has produced another son who is a crack pitcher on the St. John's preparatory school team.

This is a converse and strange melody of inherited characteristics. Sullivan would like very much to have one of his sons become a catcher.

And Walsh who has seen the rebirth of his old skill in his only boy joins with his old friend in hope and counsel to bring about a realization of this common desire.

WALKER CUP MEN LEAVE FOR GAMES

United States Golf Representatives Expected to Whip English, Scotch Rivals

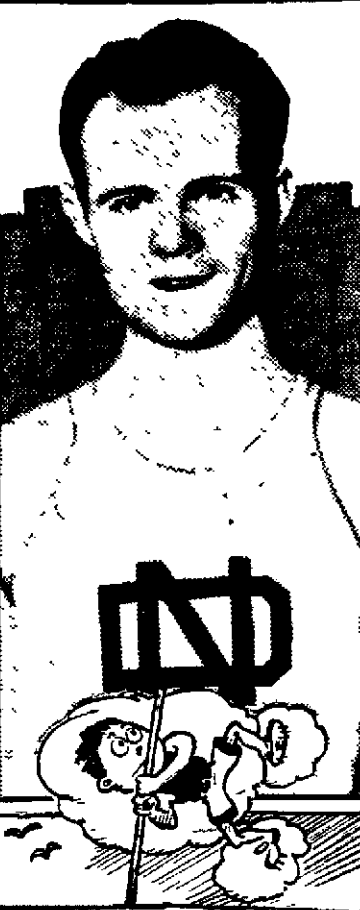

New York —(AP)—America's eight Walker cup golfers supported by a score of relatives and friends are out on the Atlantic Wednesday bound for conquests in Great Britain and the bolls of Scotland may well be blue.

But pipes skirted a battle tune as the American forces feasted Tuesday night before departing, and the recording of an American song of recent make told them.

"We'll be backing you always" without word from British golf officials as to the effect of the general strike of workers on sports in that country the U. S. Golf association announced that the invasion would be carried out as planned. In case the British officials postpone events before the Acquaintance docks, the Americans will land at Chertbourg and perhaps make a tour of the continent.

The members of the team—Captain Bob Gardner of Chicago, Bobby Jones and Watts Gunn of Atlanta, Francis Gurnell and Jesse Gullford of Boston, George Von Elm of Los Angeles, J. C. Sweetser, and Roland MacKenzie of Washington—were entertained at a banquet with more than 500 bidding them farewell.

STAR VAULTER

PAUL HARRINGTON

One of the best pole vaulters in collegiate circles today is Paul Harrington of Notre Dame. He has cleared over 13 feet indoors and is expected to exceed his 53m mark by several inches now that he is out in the open. Harrington is one of the greatest vaulters developed in the middle west in seasons.

Dave's Dots And Dashes

Melzer and Handy, who formerly worked as a battery for the Menasha Pals, will see service with the Two Rivers club of the Lake Shore league this season. This loop is going out and paying big money for ball players and many former State league stars are finding new diamond homes.

Bruce Noel is having some trouble in Oshkosh. There is another baseball aggregation in the Sawdust City and it is understood that this team is making big money offers to several of Noel's stars. As a result Valley league clubs have been ordered not to book any games with the K-P outfit.

The Sheboygan Champs gave Chicago a taste of Northeastern Wisconsin baseball last Sunday when they walked the famous Logan Squares by the top-sided count of 23 to 3. The two hurlers working for the Windy City aggregation had their offerings knocked all over the lot by the Champs.

Some of them always come home to roost. Louis Schramm is back with Campbellsport and Sturgeon Bay is counting on Fortenrys for slab duty in the Lake Shore circuit. Both of these recruit twirlers spent the spring training season in Hot Springs at the expense of the Milwaukee management.

Zelenkie, of Menasha is getting away good around the red light bag for the Madison Blues. His work was one of the features in the opening series with Little Rock, a combination broke even. Zelenkie is a hard hitter and last season showed a marked improvement in fielding.

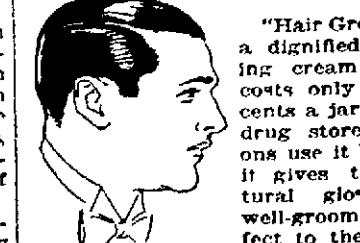

High school track teams in the Valley are being pointed for the Lawrence college intercollegiate which will be staged in Appleton on May 13. The Little Eight teams have not entered any of the other track carnivals in the state but they will be out full force for the Blue affair.

Akron, Ohio —(AP)—Steve Smith, Bridgeport Conn. won a technical victory over Doc Snell, Teoma, Washington (1).

Union City, N. J. —San Sanchez, Mexico beat Joe Clifford, Hoboken, N. J. (10). Dicky Dixon, 14, Worth Tex. defeated Johnny Griffin, Jersey City (10).

BROOKLYN TRIMS BRAVES AS JESS HURLS GOOD BALL

Rookie Southpaw Maintains Clear Record in Five Tilts; Yanks Beaten in A. L.

Chicago — (AP)—Brooklyn continues its sterling pace as the teams of the major leagues prepare for the first long journey of the year. Before the end of the week the National's battles will be taking place in the west and the Americans in the east.

Jess Petty, big left hander of the Dodgers, remains undefeated in five appearances, although Tuesday he had difficulty in subduing the Boston Braves 3 to 2. Petty allowed Boston only seven hits. Opposing teams have made only 21 safeties in 47 innings off him this season. Jacques Fournier, home run leader of the majors and Gaudreau of the Braves became tangled on a double. Fournier was carried from the field with a sprained right ankle and Gaudreau received a severe spine wound.

Herman and Lester Bell joined hands to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 5-2 verdict over the Cincinnati Reds. Herman allowing only four safeties after the third and Lester pounding out the hits that meant victory.

The New York Yankees have lost two straight contests for the first time in 1926 Philadelphia, by hitting hard behind Jack Quinn, again Tuesday, won 10 to 5. Mickey Cochrane produced a home run.

Cleveland drove Vangilder from the mound in the fifth and ran away from the St. Louis Browns, 11 to 5. Uhlir permitted 13 hits including three doubles but remained in the box throughout with a long lead in his favor. He made three of the Cleveland safeties for a perfect day at bat.

Ted Lyons pitching for the White Sox tightened in the pinches and overcame Detroit, 4 to 2, with the hitters supporting him. Sheely registered a triple and three singles for a perfect average. Kamm, third baseman for the Sox was injured sliding to a base and had to leave the field.

Washington gained its third straight victory over the Red Sox, 8 to 7. Boston spurted in the ninth for three runs but Marberry succeeded Ferguson and returned the side before the game could get started. Ethridge was the victim of the Senator sluggers.

FRANCE MUST ACT ON SUZANNE'S U. S. TRIP

New York — Suzanne Lenglen's hopes of carrying out her proposed exhibition tennis tour of this country test with the French net federation.

Officials of the U. S. Lawn Tennis association announced that until France acts in the situation they have nothing to say regarding the application for exhibition permit for the French champion made by Charles C. Pyle, who managed Red Grange's football tour last fall.

Pyle when informed of the decision said that he would attempt to persuade Mlle. Lenglen to appear in the American Women's championships at Forest Hills this summer. Suzanne has announced that her only appearance in title play this year will be in France and at Wimbledon.

ORANGE SQUEEZE PIN FIVE WILL BANQUET

Members of the Orange Squeeze girls bowling team will hold a banquet at 7 o'clock Thursday evening at Conway hotel. The remainder of the evening will be spent informally. Members of the team are Miss Gladys Koerner and the Misses Sylvia Roudoush, Mae Tornow, Ellen Dunn and Viola Wenzlaff. Miss A. T. Jones will be a guest.

Tulane University Golf Star Classed With Best

BY JOE WILLIAMS

St. Petersburg, Fla. — As a group proposition the team of amateurs picked to defend the Walker cup against the British golfers across the world's most renowned water hazard in the spring is not half bad.

No team that embraces such gifted wielders of the masher as Bobby Jones, George Von Elm, Francis Oulmet, Jess Sweetser, Jesse Gullford, Roland MacKenzie, Watts Gunn and Bob Gardner can be dismissed with a contemptuous gesture.

And yet there is another American amateur who ought to be on the team and who isn't. His name is Freddie Lamprecht of Tulane University and he holds among other titles, the national intercollegiate.

My authority for insisting Lamprecht is deserving of a position among the invaders comes from an Englishman, and Englishman who knows both sides of his golfing question, too.

Archie Compton, the professional, now touring America with Massy, veteran Frenchman, will now address you on the subject.

"I consider young Lamprecht one of your best golfers. I consider him better than Watts Gunn, the Atlanta boy. Besides having all the necessary shots, Lamprecht has a fighting temperament and is action fighting steady. I can't understand why he isn't on your Walker cup team."

Mr. Compton, you will note is a gent who speaks his mind without reservations. We recall both he and Massy earlier in the year had many nice things to say about Watts Gunn, who gained fame by going to the finals in the national amateur on the occasion of his first appearance in the event last summer.

Compton explains he still considers Gunn a formidable golfer but in his opinion Lamprecht (whom he has only recently played) is a better one. "The day Massy and I played Gunn he was hitting his irons like a nut. The day we played Lamprecht he was hitting everything like a nut. It was the difference between them."

Whether Lamprecht is a better golfer is not particularly important, except for conversational purposes. We do thing, however, he ought to be on the Walker cup team if for no other reason than that he is the national intercollegiate champion.

It seems to us such a distinction ought to automatically make the holder eligible. In most cases the college champion is a real golfer who has won from a real field.

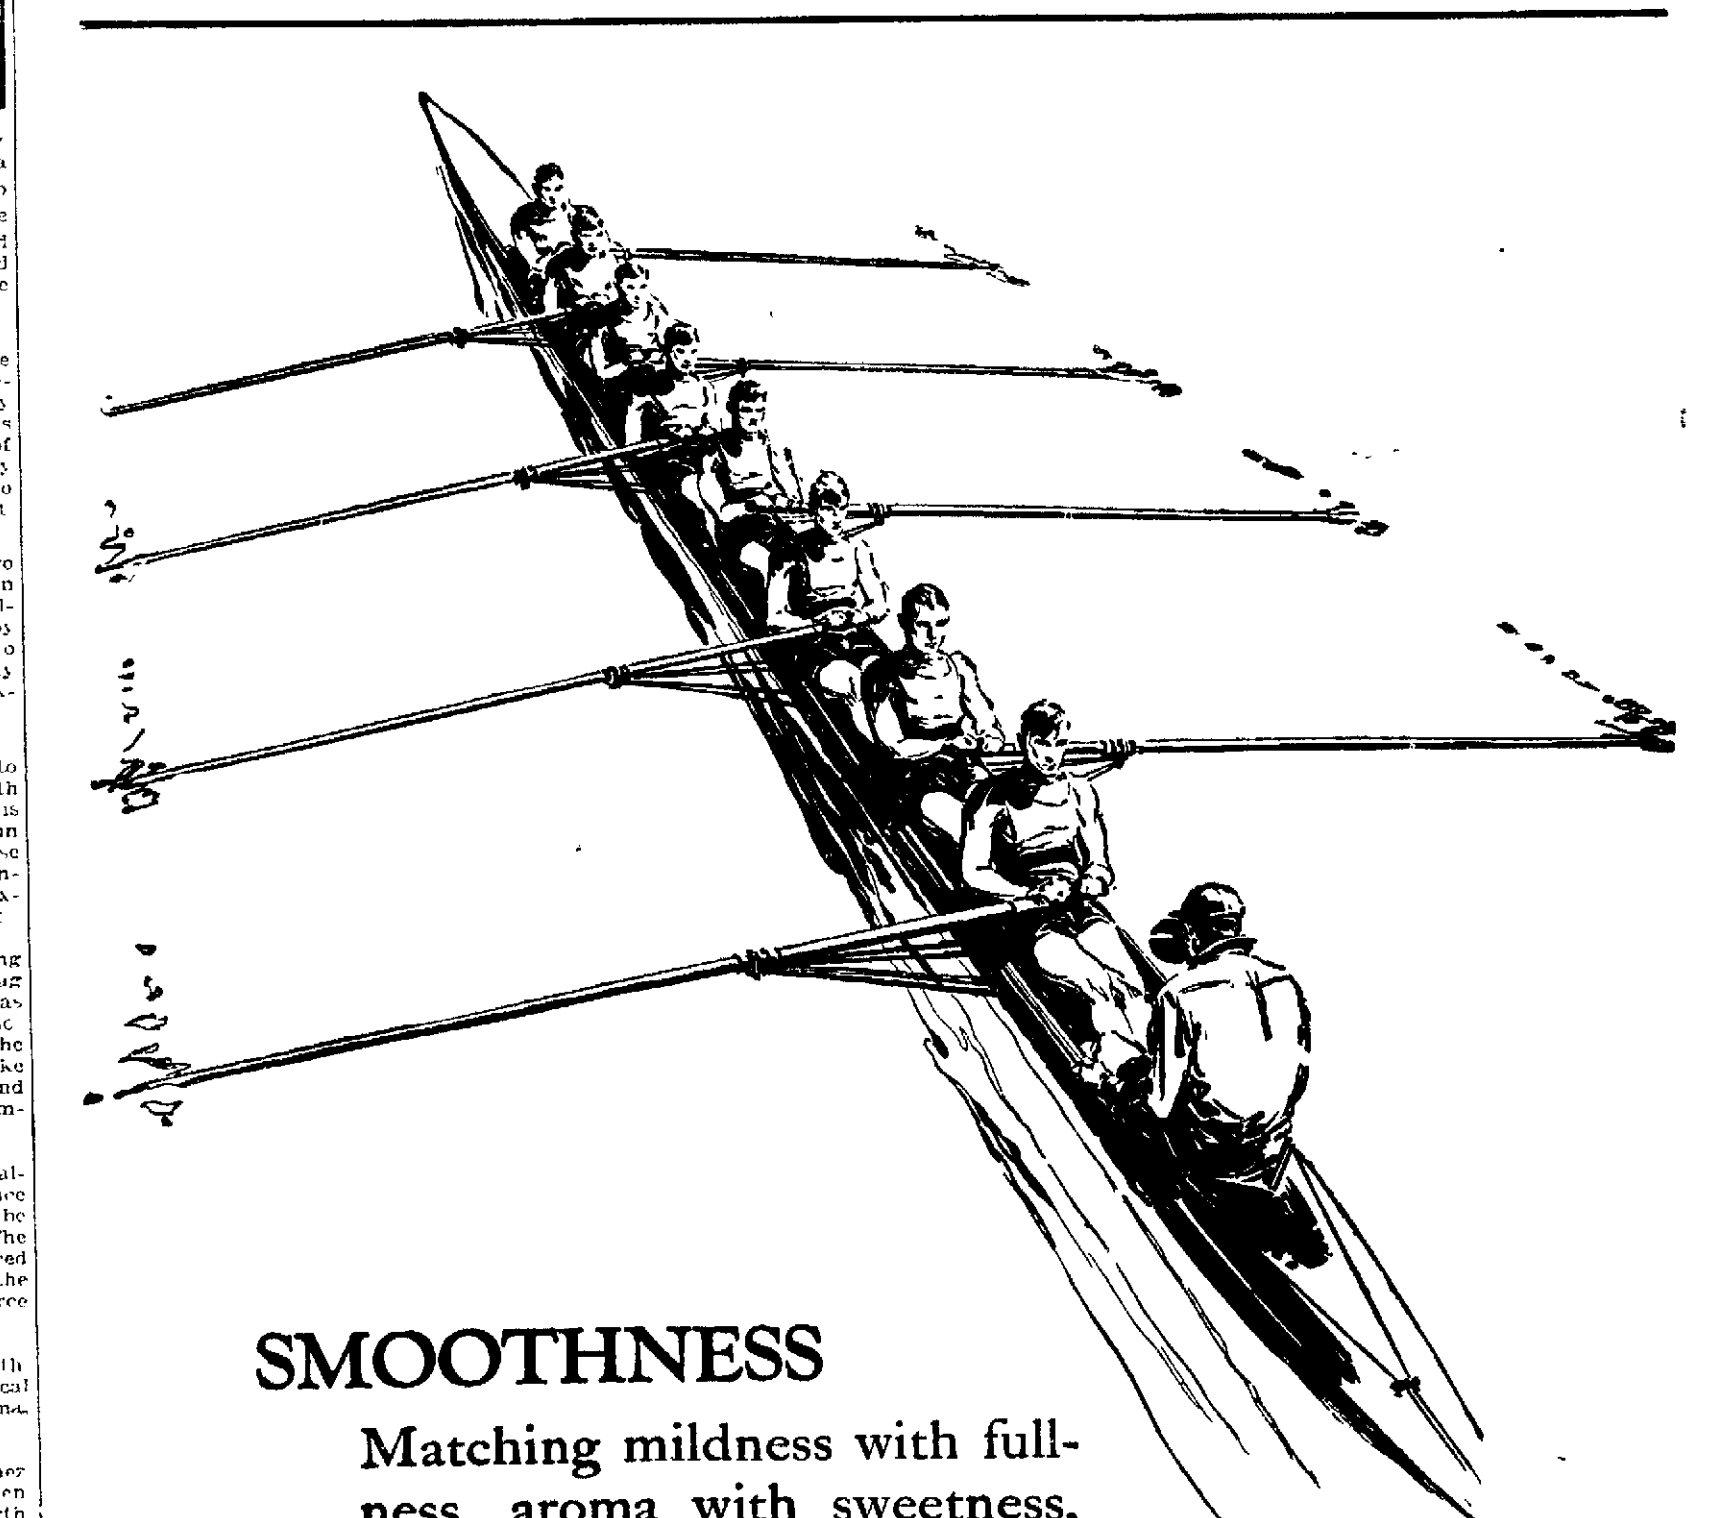

A big percentage of the star amateurs either are or have been college golfers. At Brookline several years ago four of the last eight survivors were active college men, Jones, Sweetser, Knepper and Godchaux.

Last year at Oakland the medalist, MacKenzie was a freshman and Gunn, the finalist with Jones, was a sophomore.

MENASHA TEAMS WANT GAMES WITH APPLETON

The Menasha Rounders baseball team of Menasha, would like to book a number of games with Appleton teams this summer. The Tad city team averages from 17 to 20 years of age and has played together for a year. Last year it played several Appleton teams. The Rounders play their games on Sunday. Teams desiring games are requested to get in touch with Walter Adrian, 833 Broad-st., Menasha.

Al Mayen, San Antonio, defeated Mickey Genaro, Waterbury, Conn. (10)

JOYCE WITHERED—CONFIDENCE IN PUTTER

Now the steel putters are all in the same family. Their features may not all straight, their necks may even be twisted, but you do not on that account reject their claims. Here again the consensus of opinion falls back on the older models. They see no particular virtues in the innumerable variations which crowd the market. In fact, they tell us that nothing is so hard to find as the perfect blade.

I was shown a model which its fastidious owner had by a fortunate chance come across in Scotland. It fulfilled to his mind all the requirements which he had learned of, and what is more it forthwith performed all that was expected from its balanced lines.

It was straight in the face, and the face was of good length. It was set at a perfect angle to the shaft and it lay on a fairly wide sole from which both faces rose. It was a simple angle to a comparatively narrow ridge at the top. Nothing could have exceeded its perfect simplicity. It had no kinks or strange inventions. Just a fine piece of metal, straight as a die in its setting and free from all affectations.

MASHIE TO GREEN GOLF'S HARDEST SHOT. STARS SAY

Nine of Ten Experts Declare 150 Yard Mashie Shot to Green Most Important

What is the hardest shot in golf—the shot that is of more importance than any other?

Many golfers have their own opinion concerning the answer to that question.

But nine out of every 10 professionals, and leading amateurs as well, will have one understanding that it is the mashie or mashie-niblick that carries the ball to the green from 175 or 150 yards away that is the most important shot of them all.

One cannot hole out until one is on the green. And of what value are the beautiful drives up near the green if it takes three and four strokes to get on?

Those are the questions thrown at one trying to argue a pro into believing that any other shot on the course is of more importance than the mashie or mashie-niblick to the green.

It is doubtful if any other shot on the course aside from the hole in one gives a golfer as much satisfaction and thrill as the well-played mashie to the pin—the mashie of 150 or 175 yards that lands within two yards or so of the standard.

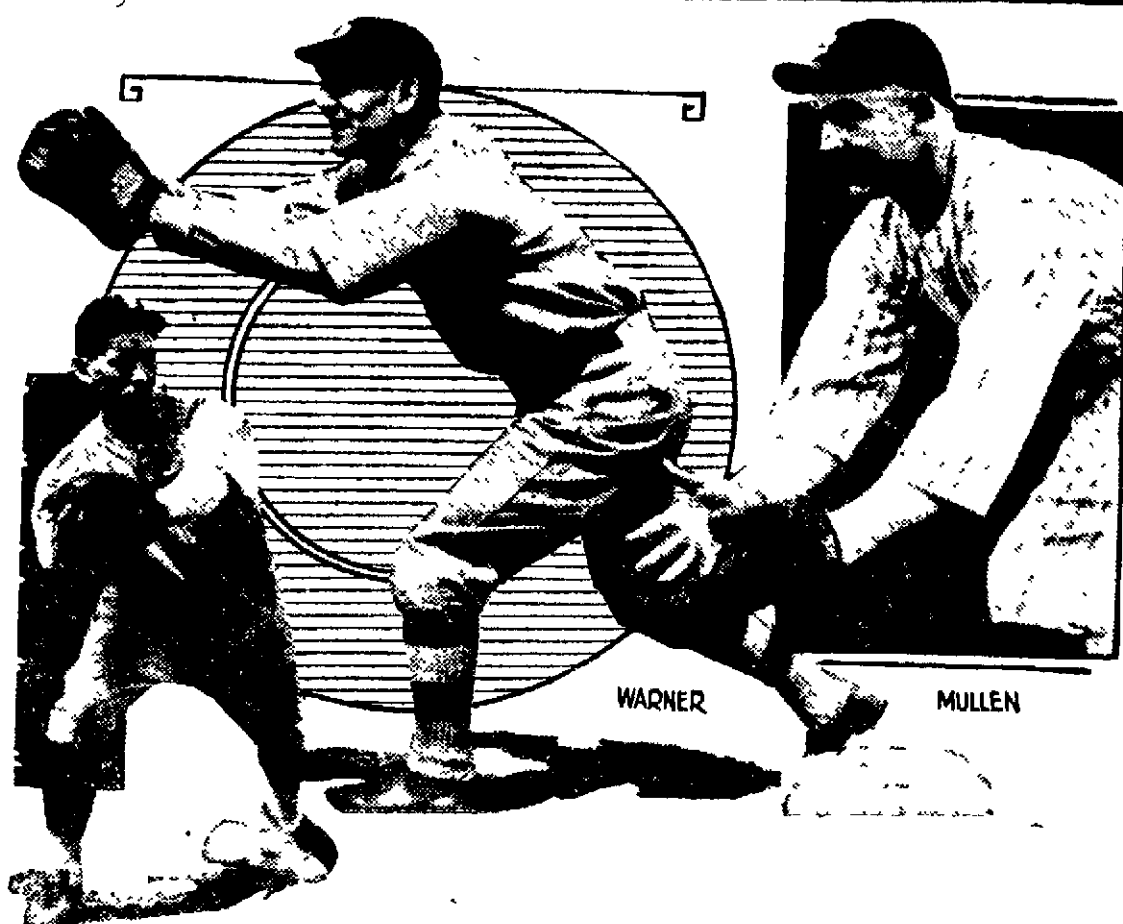

Many golfers spend long hours trying to improve their driving or in trying to obtain longer distance in their driving but sadly neglect the practice the mashie needs in order to produce good results.

Many golfers just starting out, probably find that they could shoot a fairly good score if only that mashie wasn't in their kits.

The mashie and mashie-niblick are strange clubs to the inexperienced. They offer difficulties of a troublesome nature.

And yet the golfer doesn't live who cannot trace back through his very best scores and recall that it was the expertly played mashie to the pin that

DETROIT TIGERS HAVE 3 STAR TOTS

On the 1926 roster of the Detroit Tigers are three young infield sensations—Charles Gehringer, Jack Warner and Bill Mullen. Gehringer is a second baseman considered by no less an authority than Ty Cobb "one of the greatest finds in season." Warner and Mullen are third sackers fighting it out for the place left vacant by the departure of Bobby Jones and Fred Hapey.

enabled him to shorten the number of putts generally needed to rattle the cup.

It requires hours of patient practice to master the art of putting close to the pin but what a thrill the well-played mashie gives!

Vernon — Fidel Labarba, flyweight champion won a newspaper vedette over Emil Paulso, Salt Lake, in a no decision bout (12).

MILWAUKEE BOY KILLED; RUNS IN FRONT OF TRAIN

Milwaukee —(P)—Joseph Parajacki, 13, was instantly killed Monday afternoon when he ran from behind a string of box cars directly in front of an approaching train. The boy had been playing with several others in the neighborhood of the box cars.

Burning Dead Grass In Spring Impoverishes Roots

It is probable that by far the greater number of grass fires, which are so destructive to valuable property at this time of year, may be charged to people who ignorantly believe that they are improving grass land by burning dead grass in the springtime. These people have the idea that the burning dead grass will furnish chemical elements which are nourishing to grass roots.

Grass roots are best nourished by the same chemical elements set free slowly in the grass by decomposition caused by bacteria. Humus is then formed and the bacteria at work in the humus still further liberates chemical elements in the soil roundabout. When grass is burned we lose this permanent source of nutrition and give instead a quick stimulation with chemical elements, which are mostly lost by being washed out of the soil in subsequent rains. Grassland that is burned, therefore has been subjected to a highly injurious process which gives a brief and false show of "prosperity."

The owner of a grassplot who does not mind the expense of purchasing humus and fertilizer for a lawn which is to be burned over for cosmetic effect, may accidentally have in his employ a stupid fellow who has no idea where the fire will go after it is through with that particular patch.

CIVIL WAR VETERANS TO MEET IN RACINE

The annual encampment of the Wisconsin Grand Army of the Republic will be held June 14, 15 and 16 at Racine, according to E. B. Holmstrom, assistant adjutant general, who is making arrangements for the convention. Several Appleton men are expected to be among the 300 Badger veterans of the Civil war who will attend the reunion. The youngest of the veterans living today have passed the three quarters of a century mark and the majority are over 80. The infirmities of age have several times prompted the suggestion that the annual parade be abandoned but veterans have protested, and those who can do so will march behind the colors while others will ride in automobiles. Meeting with the Grand Army will

WILL SPEED UP TRAFFIC ALONG BUSIEST STREET

Motorists May Use Car Tracks as Well as Regular Lanes, Police Advise

With traffic becoming more congested each year in the business district of Appleton, means of solving the various problems which have been presented lately are being worked out by the police department and the city administration. Several plans now under consideration will, when put into effect, not only decrease the number of cars which are continually parked downtown within a radius of a few blocks, but will speed up traffic on the principal thoroughfares, especially on College-ave.

A new police regulation, devised by George T. Prim, chief of police, and endorsed by Mayor Albert C. Rule, regarding traffic along College-ave, was put into operation Tuesday morning. Chief Prim announced following a consultation with Mayor Rule. Instead of following only the lanes on College-ave, motorists will be allowed to cross the intersection on the street-car tracks as well provided no street cars are standing there at the time. Traffic officers will be ordered to instruct the public accordingly.

Two lanes of traffic instead of one will thus move in both directions on College-ave across the Oneida-st. intersection. This plan will speed up traffic considerably and will eliminate to a large extent the congestion which oftentimes results when cars are held up for a block or more because of the traffic signals, according to Chief Prim.

A change in the timing of the traffic signals at College-ave and Oneida-st. also is being considered. Under the present arrangement traffic is allowed to move for 30 seconds on both streets and is, of course, held up for a corresponding length of time. The proposed change would give traffic on College-ave 50 seconds to pass, while that on Oneida-st. would be allowed 35 seconds.

As the traffic on College-ave is almost twice as heavy as on Oneida-st., the signals on the former street should be given a longer time, according to Mayor Rule. With the present plan in operation, it is not uncommon to see cars held up on College-ave because of the signals for 30 seconds although not a car is nearer to either direction on Oneida-st., he said.

A switch permitting the traffic officer at that corner to turn off the signals whenever he sees fit also may be installed, Mayor Rule announced. Such an arrangement would be especially convenient when funerals are passing the corner, he pointed out. The signals are always on for a certain length of time, but it is difficult for the officer to hold back traffic when the signals change as the majority of motorists who are waiting are not aware that a funeral is passing by.

Similar signals may be erected on the corner of W. College-ave and Appleton-st. in the near future. Traffic at this intersection is heavy enough to warrant signals and their installation would save much confusion and perhaps avoid some serious accidents, Chief Prim stated.

That the signals now in operation at College-ave and Oneida-st. are the most desirable and are located in the most advantageous position, is the opinion of Chief Prim. If the signals were placed in the center of the intersection or on the opposite side of the street, the eyes of the motorist would be fixed at those locations, he pointed out. Under the existing arrangement, the signals are on the near side of the street, the motorist directs his glance at that spot, and if some person should suddenly dart out from the sidewalk, the motorist will see him, whereas he might not under the other arrangement.

In order to eliminate congestion in the business district caused by the number of parked cars there, the stock fair grounds will be designated as a free parking space, Chief Prim announced. A sign directing motorists to this location will be erected at the corner of W. College-ave and Walnut-st. within the near future. It is estimated that from 150 to 200 cars can be parked in that area.

The stock fair grounds is only a few minutes walk from the busiest section of the city and people will be glad to leave their machines there, Chief Prim said. On Saturday nights motorists find it unable to park their cars closer than three or four blocks from College-ave, and even then there are frequently cars parked about them. Designation of the stock fair grounds as a free parking space should fill an urgent need of the motorist, he said.

When the above changes are put into effect the traffic problem of the city will be solved for some time to come, it is believed by police and city officials.

First Radio Star Soloist Of Minneapolis Symphony

JEANETTE VREELAND

Jeanette Vreeland, the first singer to broadcast a program from the air, and one of the younger American singers who is rapidly making her way to the top of the musical world, will appear here Wednesday, May 12, as soloist for the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra. She was born in Denver, Colo., and received her entire education in this country.

She has been called "a first class example of the fact that America now has the best of teachers as well as the best of talents."

Although the possessor of a naturally beautiful soprano voice, Miss Vreeland wisely made no professional appearances until after she had gone through a thorough course of study. Percy Rector Stephens, New York's prominent vocal coach and teacher, heard her in Denver and was so impressed with the beauty of her voice that he encouraged her to come to New York where she studied in his studio and with other noted New York teachers. The "Blind Bow Boy" was busy meanwhile and in 1920 Miss Vreeland became Mrs. Percy Rector Stephens.

A few years ago Miss Vreeland found herself suddenly in the limelight by becoming the first singer to broadcast a radio concert from the air. While flying over New York city in an airplane piloted by Bert Acosta, she broadcasted a complete program.

She made her first professional appearance in January 1922 and scored such a success that eleven engagements were booked for her during April and May of that year. Her rise has been rapid but in no way sensational.

GOVERNOR HEARS PLEA OF BOEHM FOR PARDON
Petition for pardon of Anton Boehm, Calumet Harbor man, who was sentenced to a year in state prison at Waupun when he was found guilty of running down and seriously injuring Benjamin Beschta on July 11, 1925, and of neglecting to stop and aid the injured man, was to be heard by Governor John J. Blaine Wednesday.

John A. Lonsdorf, district attorney of Outagamie-co., will represent the state at the hearing, while Keller and Keller will appear for Boehm.

Boehm is at liberty on $1,500 bail pending an appeal to the Supreme court by Lonsdorf and Wimer, filed immediately after sentence had been pronounced on Oct. 26. Boehm has not served any part of his sentence.

DESERT ENGLISH FARMS, CLAIM THEY DO NOT PAY
Country gentlemen in England who have been hard hit financially by the war and its aftermath are deserting the green fields for the bright lights because rent is cheaper in the city. Sir Walter Gilber, whose forefathers were among the largest land owners of England, is the most recent of this class to announce desertion of the land, because farming, he says, does not pay. Sir Walter said he had lost more than 5,000 pounds in five years. And that his 450 acres at Eichenham Essex, the last of the famous agricultural estate created by his father who once owned 2,000 acres are now offered for sale. A London flat 120a.
